ASKS $600,000 WATER PLAN BOND ISSUE

C. of C. Will Urge Council Tonight to Put Proposal on Primary Ballot.

CALLS FOR REHABILITATION

Sets March 23 as Date for Meeting of Civic Groups Backing Program.

A request that city council place a proposed $600,000 bond issue on the ballot at the August primary to finance necessary improvements in the water distribution system will be submitted to council tonight by Clarence L. VanDerau, president of the Chamber of Commerce.

Decision to recommend the bond issue was reached at a meeting of the C. of C. directors last night. They propose to rehabilitate the city system as recommended in a comprehensive survey made by consulting engineers two years ago.

Follows Woodland Fire.

Behind the chamber's recommendation was the $40,000 fire which ruined the R. E. Imhoff home in Woodland a week ago tonight and revealed a glaring inadequacy in the water supply in that district because of undersized mains.

At the same time the board laid plans for a meeting March 23 of all civic organizations to back the proposed bond issue.

Invitations were being mailed today by the chamber, asking all organizations in the city to send representatives to the meeting which Vanderau said probably would be held in the C. of C. assembly rooms.

Reviews Survey Report.

The board acted last night after VanDerau had reviewed the plans set forth in the report of a survey made two years ago by George B. Gascoyne and associates of Cleveland and for which the city spent $3,000.

"We have the survey but it is

Scores Wait to File Income Tax Reports on Last Day.

Long lines of persons who procrastinated in the filing of their income tax returns stood in the upper hall of the postoffice building today, the last day to file returns without being subject to a 10 per cent penalty.

Four deputy collectors from the internal revenue office were kept busy throughout the day aiding in filling out the returns. The office closes at 9:30 p. m.

After tonight a 10 per cent penalty will be assessed the taxable portion of the incomes of those who are late in filing.

Hitler Builds Unique Retreat In Which To Ponder His Conquests, Plan New Ones

Crowd-Proof Tea-House Above Clouds New Haven of Reichsfuehrer

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Adolf Hitler, who likes to get away from it all when he isn't taking over new territory for the ever-growing German reich, has a new retreat. It is kept a secret from the great majority of Germans. Even some of Der Fuehrer's best friends haven't seen it. The few photographs that have been taken of it are locked in a Nazi vault. In this story the chief of the AP's Berlin bureau describes that retreat and tells why it was built.)

* * * * *

By LOUIS P. LOCHNER

He has had constructed for himself an aerie the like of which no other living human being can boast of.

A tea house, perched upon a mountain top and accessible only by an elevator on the inside of the Kehlstein mountain, affords the fuehrer of Germany an opportunity to enjoy absolute solitude in a cloudless sky.

Before Adolf Hitler came into power in January, 1933, his summer home in the Bavarian Alps, about five miles above Berchtesgaden, on a slope of the Obersalzberg, gave him the seclusion and quiet he craves as an offset to noisy "heils," tramping feet, and trumpets' blare.

But no sooner had Hitler become chancellor, than the Berghof, as the Obersalzberg chalet is called, became the Mecca for disciples of national socialism. Hitler simply had to come out on the veranda from time to time to salute the masses fringing the roadside.

Moreover, the "Berghof" had to be enlarged for visits of statesmen and party leaders summoned by the chief of state. The solitude of the Berchtesgaden retreat was gone.

Hitler next discovered a little tea house some distance away from his home. Here he would often go in the afternoon to relax. But this retreat, too, was soon discovered.

Many details of Der Fuehrer's hideaway are secret, but here's an artist's conception.

Then one of his closest collaborators suggested that the top of the Kehlstein would provide exactly what the fuehrer wanted—a retreat inaccessible to the crowd and bathed in sunshine at times when the "Berghof" was wrapped in gray clouds.

The Kehlstein, steep and abrupt, defied road building. But an engineer with imagination found a way to approach the top—by elevator.

This necessitated construction of a tunnel 360 feet long into the Kehlstein. Shortly after leaving the "Berghof," Hitler and his few trusted lieutenants enter this closely guarded tunnel. The entrance is protected by two huge bronze doors which swing open to admit Hitler's car.

The elevator rises slowly up a shaft 300 feet high. A man who accompanied Crown Prince Michael of Rumania on his elevator ride to the top found that the

(By United Press)

BUDAPEST, Hungary — Hungarian troops occupying Carpatho-Ukraine fought their way to the Polish border this afternoon, reliable advices reported today.

The messages said that Hungarian officers sent a patrol to the Polish frontier station, where they were greeted by Polish troops. News of the arrival of the Hungarian troops at Poland was greeted with wild enthusiasm in Budapest.

The Hungarian government sent an ultimatum to the Carpatho-Ukraine government demanding that Premier Augustin Voloshin surrender his authority by 8 p. m.

Arrival of Hungarian troops at the Polish frontier (apparently with consent of Germany) meant virtually complete occupation of Carpatho-Ukraine after several serious battles with the Ruthenian guards, a separatist organization demanding independence.

It was understood Hungary had started negotiations with Berlin for an amicable settlement of all details of the occupation by Hungarian troops after the Voloshin regime surrenders formally.

Count Stephen Csaky, the Hungarian foreign minister, said in the note that the surrender was necessary to avoid bloodshed.

As the ultimatum was sent it was reported in private but reliable quarters that Hungarian troops had entered Chust, the Carpatho-Ukrainian capital.

WHO'S TO PAY DEBT? U.S. ASKS

Czechoslovakian Break-Up Leaves Trade, War Bill Questions Up in Air.

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON — The final breakup of Czechoslovokia posed two direct questions today for the United States government:

1. What will be salvaged of the trade promised in the reciprocal agreement concluded last year between the United States and Czechoslovakia?

2. To whom can the United States look for the $165,620,270 owed it by the post-war republic?

The trade treaty with the Czechs provided for entry of American products, such as automobiles, in return for United States import of shoes under a quota basis.

Some officials pointed out that creation of a German "protectorate" over part of the country undoubtedly would oblige the treasury to place it on the commercial blacklist with the Reich.

There was speculation whether the Czech-Slovakian debt would assume the same status as Austria's.

Germany has denied legal obligation for the Austrian debt, but has expressed a willingness to negotiate a settlement.

A large part of the Czech debt is charges for transporting the Czech legion home from Vladivostok after the World war. Payments on the debt amounted to $20,134,092 prior to the Hoover moratorium in 1932.

LONDON—(INS)—The direct charge that Germany's seizure of Bohemia and Moravia is "inconsistent with the spirit of the Munich agreement" was made today by Foreign Secretary Viscount Halifax. As a result, he told the house of lords, there must be "inevitable postponement" of the eventual benefits to European peace that were supposed to arise from the Munich pact.

(By Associated Press)

PRAGUE—German troops of occupation were hissed and cheered today as they moved into positions of control in the once proud capital of free Czechoslovakia.

Cheers of German welcomers were interspersed with the hissing of Czech patriots and cries of "Pfui, pfui, go back home!" Some patriots sang the Czech national anthem. Two persons were reported struck by German military automobiles. There were no serious disorders, however.

End of Czech Rule.

The entry of Adolf Hitler's battalions marked the end of Czech sovereignty in the shattered republic which dissolved yesterday after the Hitler-inspired secession of Slovakia.

The easternmost division of Czechoslovakia—Carpatho-Ukraine—was being occupied by Hungarian troops. German occupation of the Czech western part, Bohemia and Moravia, was agreed upon in Berlin last night when Emil Hacha, former Czech president, placed the area under Hitler's protection.

Huge crowds were massed along the central streets of Prague as the troops, in four groups, moved in.

At times the "Pfui's"—continental version of the Bronx cheer—were so loud that they could be heard blocks away. The crowds grew more demonstrative as the troops increased in number.

At one point along the route the strains of the national anthem rose above the noisy exhaust of the mechanized equipment bearing the Germans into Prague.

Little Encouragement.

Here and there the troops were encouraged by cries from German groups wearing swastika armbands.

Before the ancient Rathaus (city council building) a large German delegation had gathered, bearing a swastika banner of heroic size which the Nazis like to hang from their public buildings. But it was the only one in sight.

No flags of any sort decorated the houses or streets. Some street cars flew various flags but they were the Czech colors, such as would be flown on a national holiday.

It was the most lifeless and colorless reception that Reichsfuehrer Hitler's troops had received since the fuehrer started his expansion program.

The contrast between today's reception and the flowers and kisses with which Nazi troops were welcomed when they occupied Sudetenland last October was most striking.

RELIEF STAFF PAID AT LAST

Checks for 6 Weeks' Work Go Out—No One Knows When Next Ones Will Come.

After six weeks without pay, City Relief Director J. Verne Finney and his staff at the relief office today received their pay checks totaling $1,482.50 to cover their wages up to March 15. They had received their last pay on Feb. 1. No one knows when they'll be paid again.

The checks were issued by City Auditor Paul L. Kelley today from an allocation of $6,121.62 in state funds distributed yesterday to the county's various sub-divisions by the county commissioners.

The balance, Kelley said would go into the relief fund to be applied against mounting relief bills that today totaled more than $22,000. The allocation was made to the county from the $5,000,000 stop-gap relief fund and was based on the January relief expenditures which were used for matching purposes.

Kelley pointed out however, that the allotment today did little to help the city which has $23,058 in notes that were due March 1, and for which no funds are in sight.

The amount includes $15,000 due as part of the $60,500 issued

His Appetite Downfall Of Detention Home Fugitive

Boy, 13, Gives Himself Up After Going Without Food 24 Hours; Taken to Lancaster Again.

The appetite of a 13-year-old boy fugitive got the better of him yesterday afternoon and he came back home to give himself up to juvenile authorities rather than go hungry any longer.

The youth, who escaped from the county detention home Monday afternoon, eluded officers for 24 hours, then he went home to get something to eat.

Today he was back in the Lancaster Boys Industrial school on an order from Judge C. J. Anderson in juvenile court who had described the boy as "the worst juvenile case" he had handled in recent months.

Parents Turn Him Over.

Parents of the boy turned him over to court authorities shortly after he returned home yesterday, and a parole officer from the Industrial school took him to Lancaster last night. He had been paroled from the institution last December.

The youth, who confessed a number of thefts in the past two or three years, was sent back to the school after he admitted taking $17 from the cash register at Berry's grocery, East Fourth and Elm streets, Sunday night.

His 16-year-old brother, allegedly involved in the theft, is to appear before Judge Anderson Friday. Two other boys who admitted sharing the loot were paroled to their parents as first offenders.

Rival Unions Recess Peace Debate to March 24.

NEW YORK—(INS)—Snail-like progress appeared to have been made today in the efforts of the A. F. of L. and the CIO, to get together and end their three-year inter-union war—as recently suggested in blunt fashion by President Roosevelt.

After two peace conferences behind closed doors in New York—one lasting six hours on Monday and the other occupying two hours last night—a joint committee representing the American Federation of Labor and the Congress of Industrial Organizations recessed until March 24 when they will meet again at the department of labor in Washington.

John L. Lewis, veteran of a thousand and one labor discussions, blandly shook his head negatively when asked to talk. The others were equally mum.

OPENS 'WAR' ON TAGLESS DOGS

County Names 2 Deputies to See Canines Have Licenses or Are Brought in.

Launching a campaign against tagless dogs, county commissioners today appointed two deputy dog wardens and instructed them to see that all dogs have licenses or bring them to the county dog pound.

The deputies, who will assist Warden William Miller, are H. S. Baxter of Mansfield and Roy Kibler of Shelby.

Under a new plan, the deputy wardens will be paid on a commission basis, receiving a specified amount for each dog license they sell.

C. L. Mitchell, chairman of the board of commissioners, said he expected the plan to produce better results in the program to eliminate stray dogs which raid sheep flocks and damage gardens in spring.

"We believe only a little more than half the dogs in the county have tags, while scores of them run around the country at night killing sheep or damaging property," Mitchell asserted.

He said 5,200 tags have been sold so far this year for an estimated total of 9,000 dogs in the county that should have tags.

Mitchell pointed out that a plan followed last year of hiring a deputy on a salary basis did not prove satisfactory and expressed the belief that a more rigid campaign to force dog owners to buy licenses for their pets will result from the percentage payment plan.

Asserting that "no drunken driver will get any leniency in this court," Common Pleas Judge C. H. Huston today revoked the probation of Marvin Kane, 31, of Ashland and sentenced him to one to seven years in the Ohio penitentiary.

In sentencing Kane who admitted he drove a car Saturday night while under the influence of intoxicants, Judge Huston said, "Driving while drunk is an offense against others around you and a far more serious one than the larceny charge which brought you into court."

Kane was placed on probation six weeks ago after he pleaded guilty to a grand jury indictment for grand larceny in the theft of scrap iron from the Mansfield Shale Products plant near Mansfield. He was arrested Saturday night by Ashland police on the driving charge.

Davey, Garner Confer; Texan's Chances in '40 Studied, Belief

(By United Press)

WASHINGTON—(U.P.)—A conference between Vice President John N. Garner and Martin L. Davey, Democratic ex-governor of Ohio, gave rise today to speculation that Davey might be identified with a movement to boost the Texan for the presidency in 1940.

The two men talked for an hour in Garner's office late yesterday. Davey would not reveal their conversation but admitted they had discussed the 1940 race.

"I regard Mr. Garner as one of the greatest men in the country," Davey said. "I have held him in the highest esteem since the days when I served under his leadership in the house."

Ohio leaders with whom Davey talked said privately that they believed he would run either for governor or senator in 1940. He was understood to have given Garner an analysis of Ohio election returns in 1936 and 1938.

Early in 1935, while in his first term as governor, Davey broke with the New Deal. Clashes with the national administration were frequent during his four-year incumbency.

Davey avoided the embarrassment of crossing a picket line while visiting in Washington at one of the two leading hotels where service employes are not on strike.

Downtown Stores 'Dress Up' for Spring and Display Days

Mansfield store windows will anticipate the official opening of spring by several days when for four days this week, starting Thursday, Spring Display days will be observed by members of the Retail Merchants' Association.

Forty-three stores will have displays of spring merchandise in their windows and will take part in the window title contest, which pays winners $80 in cash prizes.

Winter stocks have been cleared out and stores are filled to capacity with a colorful array of new spring merchandise.

Each store taking part in the event will trim windows to represent the title of some song, movie, book, play, or well known commercial phrase. All but one of the windows have specific titles, and that one must be given an appropriate title by the contestants.

A list of the windows in the contest, as well as a list of the titles will be found on the entry blanks which may be secured from any of the participating firms. The correct titles must be matched with the stores. All entry blanks must be filled out and deposited in any of the stores before 5 p. m. Monday.

Members of the committee of the Retail Merchants' Association sponsoring the Spring Display days event are Tom Siegenthaler, chairman; Glenn Erdenberger, Jo-

FIGHT BREAKS OUT AS HOUSE GROUP MEETS

Appropriation Committee Goes to Work; Democrats Resent New Money Demand.

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON—President Roosevelt got prompt preliminary action today on his request for an extra $150,000,000 for relief—and along with it a tumultuous row which shattered Democratic harmony in the house.

A house appropriations subcommittee, starting consideration of the president's recommendation within 24 hours of its submission, asked Col. C. F. Harirngton, WPA administrator, to explain in detail why more money was needed.

Leaders Predict Victory.

Administration leaders predicted the president would get his $150,000,000, but from some house Democrats came expressions of resentment over the new demand.

It was embarrassing, they said, to be requested to reverse so soon the action by which congress lopped $150,000,000 from the $875,000,000 which Mr .Roosevelt originally asked to operate the WPA until June 30.

They also objected to the fact that supervision of the emergency bill was taken from Rep. Woodrum (D-Va.), leader of an economy bloc, and turned over to Chairman Taylor (D-Colo.) of the appropriations committee.

Rep. Cox (D-Ga.), who has opposed some administration measures, said:

"Members are shocked at the treatment of Mr. Woodrum, who is one of the ablest and most influential members of the house. They are so resentful that the $150,000,000 would be defeated overwhelmingly if it were voted on today.

Whether the protests over deposing Woodrum would swing any votes against the $150,000,000 remained to be seen.

Opinions Unchanged.

But it was an open question, also, whether Mr. Roosevelt's latest appeal for more money had undermined any of the opposition to his original request for $875,000,000. A survey of a score of Democrats who had voted against it disclosed that none had changed his position.

Most Republicans were silent on the issue, although Senator McNary, the minority leader, said that if the money was "actually needed for relief and not for politics" it would be authorized.

The president told congress that insuffiicency of present funds would compel the WPA to discharge about 1,200,000 workers in the immediate future and that this would affect 5,000,000 persons.

Settlement News to Me, Says Jackie of 50-50 Proposal

HOLLYWOOD —(AP)— Jackie Coogan, who says all he knows about a property settlement with his mother is what he read in the papers, went looking for a movie job today, still with nothing to show for the millions he earned as a child star.

"It was a surprise to me—those stories yesterday — that mother and I were splitting up my $250,000 estate fifty-fifty," the 24-year-old actor told the Associated Press.

"From what I read of the terms, it seemed to me I wasn't getting even as much as a half share, although I'd be willing to settle for that rather than fight the case through the courts for several more years.

"As near as I can make out, my mother and stepfather would be given real estate and securities, while my supposed 50 per cent would include some of my old films—and I'm not even sure they still exist. At any rate, they'd have no cash value.

"If this is the kind of settlement that will be presented in court Friday, you can say for me that it has no chance of going through."

3 RESCUED IN CANTON BLAZE

Firemen Save Children From 3-Story Structure; Loss Estimated at $50,000.

(By Associated Press)

CANTON—A blaze in downtown Canton, from which firemen rescued three small children through use of an aerial ladder, was brought under control early today.

Investigators sought to determine the cause of the fire, which swept through the upper floors of a three-story structure on the city's public square.

No official estimate of the damage was immediately available, but it was expected to reach between $50,000 and $75,000, including losses sustained by business establishments located in the 60-year-old building.

The blaze is believed to have started on the third floor, where several apartments were located.

From one of these, William Murray, 12, and his cousins, Richard Perrenoud and his brother, Fritz, 6 and 4 years old, were rescued. All had been overcome by smoke while they slept.

Every available fireman was ordered to the scene. Eleven pieces of apparatus responded. A crowd of 5,000 persons watched the fire from the square.

The building housed a basement cafe, a men's toggery, a women's apparel shop, a Republican club headquarters and several offices, including the state tax commission's sales tax quarters.

He is survived by his daughter and three grandchildren. The body was removed to the Geiger funeral home. Burial arrangements were incomplete today.

PUPILS VIE WITH PARENTS IN GROTTO SPELLING BEE FRIDAY

Which are the best spellers—pappy and mammy, or the kids?

This much-discussed question should be settled pretty definitely Friday night when five senior high school girls match their ability against five members of the Mansfield Parent-Teacher association at the Baku Grotto's second spelling contest at Grotto hall in the King building. The contest starts at 8 p. m.

Upholding the honor of the schools will be Miriam Armstrong, Miriam Bauer, Charlotte Brightbill, Virginia Gerke, and LaNola Myers, with Doris Kiraly as alternate. All of the girls are in 12-A class.

The P. T. A. team, several members of which are "McGuffey trained" spellers, will be made up of Mrs. Kathryne Bancroft, Herman Clingan, Alfred M. Colby, Mrs. Milo Hieber and Mrs. Joseph Scanlon, with C. A. Divelbiss as alternate.

The words for the spelling bee will be selected from daily newspapers as these, according to the committee, represent the words that are in daily use and understood by the majority of people.

Judge G. E. Kalbfleisch will be master of ceremonies and will conduct the contest.

The Grotto has arranged to hold a series of Friday night spelling contests, each one to be sponsored by a Mansfield merchant or concern. This week's affair is being sponsored by O. O. Brenner, jeweler, 8 West Third street. He will provide the prizes for the winners, first and second, and eight smaller prizes for all who take part.

COMPANIES AND UNIONS FAIL TO REACH ACCORD

Pharmacists Fail to Report on Job; State Law Requires Closing Orders.

BULLETIN

CLEVELAND — (INS) — Picket lines were established outside a number of drug stores of three Cleveland chains today as they opened in defiance of a strike called by four A. F. of L. Drug Store Employes unions. Few of the stores opened at their scheduled time this morning.

(By International News Service)

CLEVELAND—More than 100 drug stores operated by three major chains in Cleveland were closed today by a strike of four A. F. of L. unions.

The chains affected were the Standard Drug company, operating 50 stores in greater Cleveland, the Marshall Drug Co., 45 stores, and the Weinberger Drug Stores, Inc., 22 stores.

No effort was made to open stores at which registered pharmacists failed to report for duty, as state law requires the presence of a pharmacist in every drug store. Failure of the chains to agree on a contract with the Association of Registered Pharmacists was given by union leaders as the chief reason for the strike, voted early today after an all-night union meeting.

Told to Stay Home.

Members of the association, the Drug Clerks union, the Drug Warehouse union and the Building Service Employes union were instructed at the meeting not to report for work today.

Police reported that the great majority of the 117 stores did not open this morning, and a spokesman for Standard Drug admitted the greater number of the chain's stores remained closed. Picket lines were not established.

John Schrier, business agent of the pharmacists, said that the stores classified most pharmacists as managers or assistant managers, and therefore refused to deal with them through the union.

Representatives of the other striking unions declared they wished to be recognized for collective bargaining purposes. No contracts were in existence between the chains and the drug clerks, the Drug Warehouse union or the building service employes, but Walter Crease, business agent of the Warehouse employes said that the union had a working agreement with Marshall and Standard.

BRICKER DENIES

Disclaims Support of Bill to Reorganize Wilberforce.

COLUMBUS —(U.P.)— Gov. John W. Bricker denied today he had given his support to a bill to reorganize the board of trustees of the combined normal and industrial department of Wilberforce university, but said he believed some "people" connected with the university had been "pretty active" in politics.

An administration spokesman in the the house of representatives had said the governor approved a bill to abolish the present board and establish a new one from which President D. O. Walker would be excluded.

Such a bill has been offered by Rep. Chester K. Gillespie, R., a colored member, and it was freely reported that the ultimate purpose of the measure was to effect the removal of Dr. Walker from the presidency.

FAIR ENOUGH!

With Some Exceptions Writers' Vanity Is as Bad as That of Singers'

—By WESTBROOK PEGLER

NEW YORK—Withdrawing nothing of what I recently said about the vanity of singers, I may add that writers, as a class and always saving the exceptions, have the same faults and a few others besides.

There is something about fame or mere publicity—which is momentary fame—which often has an upsetting effect on the poise, morals and modesty of people who work in words.

Saving the exceptions again, writers think they are not bound by conventional politeness of manners and speech. Some of them come to think that they are very superior to business men, whom they lump together as damned grocers and affect a lofty manner toward better persons who are not in the writing business.

Some of them, women writers included, think that because they are writers they should be permitted to use dirty language in any company. This takes a conscious effect at first, because writing is seldom a family trade and most writers come from ordinary families of business men or employes and were fetched up in the conventional way.

* * *

Literary agents and magazine editors could tell you a lot about the inconsiderateness and irresponsibility of writers, because they are always having to hold their hands, clean up their bills and alimony problems and stake them to living money between stories and often have to step in and settle family rows or arrange divorces.

A spoiled writer sitting somewhere quietly with a friend in the business, exchanging flattery, will be quite natural, but let a third person, a stranger, enter the picture and you will see him go into his dance, putting on the glamour or temperament to show that he is different and a little bit mad.

* * *

Some writers can do the tenderest and loveliest pieces imaginable about deep, honest love but can't stay hitched to one wife or husband long enough to last out a short-term sublease on an apartment, and their marriages in many cases break up for very petty causes. Some promote publicity for their stuff by adopting peculiar domestic understandings, and it is a fact, noted with sharp disappointment by persons outside the writing business, that some owners of well known literary names who can write the most fascinating copy are the most dreadful bores in person.

* * *

Writers cultivate hangouts in restaurants and saloons not only for the purpose of getting together and talking shop but also to be gazed at by the tourist trade and—sometimes—asked for their autographs. They have done this in Paris, London and New York, and there never was a time in New York when literary celebrity was so widespread or the celebrities so conspicuous in the night life. Saloonkeepers like to have them around to draw sightseers.

Most writers are former newspaper reporters and should have a pretty level sense of the true worth of publicity, which is made by running sheets of paper over inked cylinders and generally doesn't mean a thing, but it doesn't work out that way. It gets them just as it gets singers, actors and some types of politicians, and you will find them chucking their weight around public dinners and public joints, orating to college students and clubs and even taking bows in the subway.

* * *

A writer whose stories get into the magazines is rated a celebrity, regardless of what the stories are about or how good they are, and the papers themselves used to build up this illusion of distinction by hiring old grads of the city room to cover such events as political conventions or world's series games and billing them on the wagons as "famous magazine writer." The regular hands would do the journeyman copy, and the seal would write what the event meant to posterity or something like that for a check equal to six months' pay for a city side man.

* * *

That isn't done any more. The regular newspaper people give better coverage, and the only outstanding job of this kind by a name-writer in recent years was Edna Ferber's story about the Park avenue saloon society dolls at the Hauptmann trial. That one drew blood, but Edna Ferber is a writing writer and you never see her around.

I guess old George Bernard Shaw has done more posturing and grimacing than any other contemporary writer, but not in a scandalous or dirty way, and, anyway, the old boy is there. He has a right to act funny, but others who are always breaking into print with disorder or monkey business or being eccentric are just being coarse for fear they will not be noticed.

Hollywood Speaks—

—By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD—Hollywood is full of lunatics. A guy, for instance, who can't be happy on $4,500 a week. A guy who chucks it overboard, when it's coming in regularly, 52 weeks a year, just so he can be happy.

You've heard of him, and he's not in a padded cell. He's in jail, though. He's working his poor head off in the twine mills of a big prison—even though it's just the movie prison of "Each Dawn I Die."

His name is Raft. George, you know. That one. The one who always didn't wanna play—and kept on balking until finally the whole deal blew up, happily for all concerned.

It's funny, though. They said he balked at playing gangster roles—and yet the first role he takes when he's free to take one (away from Paramount) is a gangster role. George says it isn't quite true—about his hating gangster roles. It's true he didn't like certain kinds of gangster roles. It's this way:

"I played a gangster in 'Scarface.' I killed 14 people, but the audience felt sorry for me when the picture was done. Now I'm playing an underworld big shot, a four-time loser who goes to prison with a 199-year sentence. But this hard, tough con has redeeming qualities. He's the product of vicious environment, and in the end he does a fine, decent thing. He goes back to prison to save a pal he knows is square."

He says he draws the line at gangsters who are all bad and die rats. He can't afford to sacrifice audience sympathy, have people pay money simply to hate him.

"Lot of people may think, from what they've heard, that I'm a hard guy to deal with. I don't think I'm that, but I guess I am a peculiar cuss. I like to be happy. I've been called all kinds of a chump for kicking over a fat contract. Some of my friends have been inclined to doubt my sanity. Well, what good was that money coming in every Wednesday when I couldn't be happy in what I was doing? I'd a darn sight rather have far less and be at peace mentally."

* * *

And there was another point of friction, to hear Raft tell it. He wanted to work with other stars, let them help carry the pictures. He liked especially that "Souls at Sea" with Gary Cooper.

"Look at it this way," he says. "In New York, for instance—suppose there's Cagney and O'Brien in 'Angels With Dirty Faces.' And up the street there's 'Gunga Din' with Grant, Fairbanks, and McLaglen running competition, and then another house has Gable and Shearer in 'Idiot's Delight.' You know the companies do that—meet strong competition with their best pictures. Well, suppose there's a picture of mine, with only the name of Raft up in lights, playing against that type of competition. What chance have I got? I'm not that big a star and I know it. One of the reasons I signed for this part was that I'd be working with Cagney."

And I figure up. Just $4,500 a week, 52 weeks a year. It's $234,000 . . . But Friend George is happy, so what?

NEWSPAPERARCHIVE®

Informally Speaking...

By MARIANNE

WHETHER you like them plain and tailored or frilled and dressy, you're sure to find a formal in harmony with your own particular likes this spring . . . And it's just about high time for you to have a look around the local dress shops and get yourself one—especially with so many spring dances scheduled. There's the Chi Sigma sorority St. Patrick benefit dance Saturday night at the Mansfield-Leland. . . . And then toward the last of April, the Alpha Pi Sigma sorority and the University club are giving formals.

* * *

There are lots of new notes for spring formals—and such ideas as shirtwaist . . . gypsy . . . swinging skirts . . . are beginning to attract attention. One of the increasingly popular favorites for spring is the sleeved dinner dress or sleeveless frock with short jacket—in other words, covered shoulders rather than bare shoulder formality. . . . Nets, mousseline, chiffon, marquisette and crepes are all important materials for spring formals.

* * *

TRI-COLOR combinations are as popular for formal wear as they are for daytime frocks . . . and if you're partial to tailored gowns, you're sure to be pleased with a long-sleeved shirtwaist formal one of the downtown stores is showing. It has a white lingerie top, royal blue skirt and wide fuchsia girdle. . . . Another style is still more colorful, with surf-colored ankle-length skirt and gay roman-striped blouse in bright shades.

* * *

Or do you go in for frills and fluff? If so, I saw just the dress for you—it is given over to that "little girl" influence (which is rapidly gaining in popularity) and is fashioned from pale pink embroidered lace—with a wide-cut square neck and tight-fitting bodice. The entire skirt is ruffled and the full puffed sleeves and waist tie with velvet ribbon of a fuchsia shade. . . . And if you like frills—but in more exotic colorings, you're sure to like a chartreuse marquisette gown patterned along princess lines with drop shoulders—black lace borders the shoulder and neck line, tying in front with a black velvet bow and flowing long streamers. . . . The same black lace is also set on the full skirt at three different intervals.

* * *

ANOTHER new trend in formals for spring has developed along the gypsy and peasant lines. . . . One of the gypsy type is made from bright red and white printed crepe with a full, unpressed, pleated skirt and white jacket. . . . And then there's a flowing white chiffon gown with a full skirt and peasant type blouse with long sleeves—and peasant embroidery at the girdle and shoulders form a pleasing contrast to the white of the dress.

* * *

The ever-popular jacket formal is also a headliner for spring—perhaps because of its versatility and double-duty services. . . . If you like something a bit unusual, a gay printed crepe that I saw the other day should be just the thing you've been looking for. It is fashioned along simple lines with black net over the entire gown—and there's a matching quilted jacket. . . . Or if lime green is your favorite spring shade, you won't be able to resist a full skirted net gown of that color, which is worn over a matching taffeta slip—the jacket is embroidered with white in a flower motif and the skirt is bordered with the same.

* * *

FACING SPRING: Whether your formal is new or not, you can liven it up with an entirely new type of make-up. Aquarelle (which is the French word for "water color" and is designed to give the complexion the clarity and freshness of a fine water color portrait) is a romantic blend of pastels which has been made to harmonize with all of the spring costume colors. . . . This make-up is to help usher in a new trend in feminine beauty—a trend back to natural prettiness—and its lipstick and rouge are of a luminous rose flame tone while the powder is a golden rose shade . . . and the eyeshadow is blue—that is, if you wear it!

* * *

THAT EXTRA NICETY: And if you're looking for something in which to carry all your sundries, better have one of those new make-up kits—which have special pockets for lipstick, compact, comb, etc. . . . They can be carried in a purse or just by themselves as an evening purse if you prefer. They're made of flowered and plain silk or satin in all the new spring shades—lime, fuchsia, dawn blue—and scented with a blend of lilacs and lily-of-the-valley.

NOTE: The styles described above are available in Mansfield shops. You can learn where they may be obtained if you will telephone Marianne between 1 and 2:30 p. m. at Canal 4251.

SOCIETY & CLUBS

It was reported that four tons of paper and magazine had been brought to the Woodland school by the children, and that the fourth grade had won the prize for gathering the largest quantity, last night by Mrs. Frank Ross, ways and means chairman, at the P.-T. A. meeting at the school. Jean Kroeger won the individual prize for bringing the most paper.

Mrs. Clay Noel was appointed chairman for the garden club, and Miss Nell Boomer was named health chairman for the association. A program was presented by Mrs. Saumel Orr, chairman of the program committee, who introduced a group of young people from the First M. E. church who sang a group of Negro spirituals. Mrs. Elsie Ireland was the accompanist.

W. L. Miller, superintendent of schools, spoke on "The Zipper in Education." The first grade was awarded the prize for having the most parents present. Refreshments were served during the social hour by the mothers of fifth grade pupils. Mrs. Orr, assisted by Mrs. W. C. Cates, Mrs. Charles Beelman and Mrs. James Rizer were in charge. The next regular meeting will be April 18.

Dramatic Reader Gives Program At Book Club

There were 22 members and 22 guests in attendance at a guest party which the Tuesday Book club gave yesterday at the home of Miss Kathleen Sturges on Overlook road. Mrs. Walter C. Stevens served as associate hostess for the affair. Miss Thelma Slack, who is the director of dramatics at Ashland college, was the guest speaker, and she gave character studies from the plays, "Mary, Queen of Scotland," "Elizabeth, the Queen" and "Victoria Regina."

Tea was served at the close of the meeting, with Mrs. William Bowers and Mrs. B. B. Drummond presiding at the table, which was decorated with a white floral centerpiece and tall tapers. Miss Martha King will serve as hostess for the meeting of March 28 at the Women's Club, when Mrs. Rexford Small will review the book, "Benjamin Franklin" by Carl Van Dorn.

* * *

WEDDING ATTENDANTS.

Miss Virginia Jenkins, 426 West Third street, and Paul White, 460 Cline avenue, were the attendants at the wedding of Miss Maxine Draper and Ralph Emerson Lowe, both of Ashland. The ceremony took place at the Vermillion Baptist church in Ashland last Sunday morning.

BRANCH WILL BRING CAPITAL GROUP HERE

A. A. U. W. to Present Glee Club In Concert at High School April 21; Mrs. O. M. Newton Gives Review of Book.

THE Mansfield Branch of the American Association of University Women will bring the Capital university glee club of 35 male voices to Mansfield April 21 to appear in recital at the Senior high school, it was announced last night by Mrs. G. D. Schneider, scholarship chairman, at the regular monthly dinner meeting of the branch held at the Women's Club.

The program will be presented to raise funds for the $5,000 scholarship fund which the local organization is endeavoring to establish. Members of the committee include Miss Leona Miles, Mrs. Charles Kuntz, Miss Louise Krause, Mrs. L. C. Baumgardner, Miss Elizabeth Hainer, Miss Elizabeth Anderson, Mrs. R. M. Gage, Miss Marianne Springer, Mrs. R. D. Lindsay, and Miss Virginia Howard.

During last night's business session the following members of the nominating committee were selected. They are Mrs. Henry P. Huston, chairman, Miss Evelyn Sonner, Mrs. Paul W. Endriss, Mrs. L. C. Nigh and Miss Betty Ackerman.

Mrs. Merritt Giles, program chairman, introduced Miss Virginia Chew, leader of the American Novel Study group, who presented Mrs. O. M. Newton in a book review. Mrs. Newton reviewed "The Patriot" by Pearl Buck. She was preceded by Miss Hester Robinson who played a Schubert and a Massenet waltz at the piano. Miss Pearl Danback, accompanied by Miss Krause, concluded the program with two flute solos.

Routine business was conducted by the president, Mrs. K. E. Buhr, and Miss Anita Strauch announced that the Consumer Purchasing Study group would meet with Mrs. Gladys Lane, Park avenue west road, March 27.

The next meeting will be April 18 at the club with dinner at 6:15 p. m. followed by the presentation of the slate of officers and a program by the Consumer Purchasing group.

Smaller Church Groups In Session at Members' Homes

ACTIVITIES of Mansfield church organizations occupied a number of Mansfield women yesterday afternoon and evening as various groups gathered all over the city. Mrs. John Mabee, West Fourth street road, assisted by Mrs. William Mabee, was hostess to 10 members and two guests of the Mary Voegele Missionary society of St. Matthew's Lutheran church.

Devotions and a paper on "Evangelism in India" were read by Mrs. Charles Sheriff. The next meeting will be April 10 with Mrs. Charles Nussbaum, Park avenue east road.

* * *

Dorcas class members of St. Matthew's also met yesterday with Mrs. Grace Myers, 125 West Fifth street, entertaining the 15 members and three guests. Mrs. Charles Newlon led the devotions, and Mrs. Mabel Sommer was in charge of the business meeting. Mrs. S. B. White and Mrs. Newlon won contest prizes. The hostess served refreshments, and it was announced that the next meeting will be held April 11.

* * *

Three new members, Mrs. J. E. Marshall, Mrs. Verna Griffith and Mrs. May Rouse, were welcomed into membership in the Golden Rule class of St. Mark's Evangelical church yesterday at the meeting at the home of Mrs. Mary Lutts, North Mulberry street. Associate hostesses were Mrs. Owen McCracken and Mrs. C. A. DePue.

Mrs. Marshall Long was in charge of both the business and devotional periods. St. Patrick decorations were used for the serving of luncheon, and Mrs. Rouse won the contest prize. The next meeting will be held with Mrs. Long on Lida street. Mrs. Howard Lucas and Mrs. Charles House will be the associate hostesses.

* * *

A covered-dish dinner was served to members of the Love and Friendship class of the Mayflower Congregational church at the church yesterday when Mrs. Ralph Bloom and Mrs. Kenneth Bell conducted a devotional program. Miss Imogene Bennett was in charge of the business meeting. The next session will be April 14 at the home of Mrs. J. D. Piper, 466 North Mulberry street.

Dr. Rehder Talks at Newman School

Dr. Roy C. Rehder addressed the Newman street school Parent-Teacher association on the subject of "Health" last evening when that organization met at the school building. Dr. Rehder illustrated his talk with motion pictures.

During the musical portion of the program, a group of fifth grade pupils sang songs under the direction of Miss Sarah Wallace. Later Miss Doris Mann led some community singing. T. L. Wisdom directed a group of negroes from Mt. Calvary Baptist church in the singing of several negro spirituals.

Refreshments were served at the close of the evening by Mrs. Katherine Reed and her committee. The next regular meeting of the association will be held on April 11.

Mrs. Zediker Gives Report To Sorority

A report of the nominating committee was given by Mrs. Gene Zediker at the meeting of the Beta Sigma Phi sorority at Miss Aleen Hughes' home on Brinkerhoff avenue last night. Election of officers will be held at Miss Beatrice Kochenderfer's home on Highland avenue, March 28. Miss Ardis Linzee, chairman for the Founder's day banquet which will be held April 30, named her committee.

The members are Mrs. John Bissman, Mrs. John McCann and Miss Betty Hout. Those named to make arrangements for a Mother's day program are the Misses Jane Bacon, Barbara Keene and Aleen Hughes. A program on hobbies then followed with E. J. Wessen as guest speaker. He exhibited a number of articles.

PRE-NUPTIAL AFFAIR FETES MISS FICHTER

Towne House Scene of Shower Given by Mrs. Howard Yarnell, Mrs. Robert Small to Honor Bride-Elect.

ANOTHER in the series of pre-nuptial parties honoring Miss Martha Fichter was given yesterday evening by Mrs. Howard Yarnell and Mrs. Robert Small at the Towne House. Miss Fichter will become the bride of George H. Bender this Saturday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock in the Detroit Avenue Methodist Episcopal church in Lakewood.

The hostesses carried out a St. Patrick theme and a green and white color scheme for the affair, which was a bathroom shower. Bridge was in play at three tables during the evening, and prizes were won by the Misses Kathleen Hawley and Bettie Myers, who gave their awards to the honoree.

When luncheon was served at the small tables, the guests' places were marked with white clay pipes filled with green and white sweetpeas. Tall green tapers tied with white satin bows lighted the tables. Bowls of green and white sweetpeas were also placed about the room.

The guests presented Miss Fichter with a shower of bathroom gifts, and the hostesses gave her an electrical gift. Mrs. C. R. Fichter, the honoree's mother, was also a guest at the party.

IN TOLEDO.

Members of the Jared Mansfield chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution who motored to Toledo this morning to attend sessions of the state convention are Mrs. Brinkerhoff Spear, Mrs. G. J. Kochenderfer, Mrs. Sidney L. Palmer, Mrs. Earl Paxton, and Mrs. H. C. Henkel.

Mrs. Farry New Head of Circle

One o'clock luncheon was served to 40 members of the Bethany circle of the First Presbyterian church yesterday in the church parlors. The guests were seated at 10 small tables, which were attractively decorated with St. Patrick appointments. Hostesses for the affair were: Mrs. W. J. Bishop, Mrs. Carl Gibson, Mrs. D. N. Roller, Mrs. George Ingram, Mrs. W. G. Black, Mrs. C. V. McConnell and Mrs. Fred Kelly.

Mrs. Charles Farry was elected president of the organization during the business session, and Mrs. Milo W. Heiber will assist her as vice-president. Mrs. Ingram was elected as the new secretary and Miss Belle Anderson will serve as treasurer. Mrs. Paul Eliot reviewed "Prologue to Glory" during the program. Mrs. J. E. Hugo will be hostess for the meeting of April 11 at her home in Townview circle.

Falls For Friend's Girl

DEAR MISS FAIRFAX:
About three month ago I met my buddy's girl, and since then I've been in love with her, but my buddy doesn't know it. I've taken her out a couple of times, but feel so guilty whenever I do, because I can't get up nerve to tell him how I feel about her. She says she is very fond of me too. Please give me your advice and tell me whether I should tell him, or leave town and forget about her. I really don't want to lose either of them. We're all in our late teens.

JOHN

I imagine, since your pal is only in his teens, that he is not engaged to the girl, and, therefore, it wouldn't seem quite so bad if he found out you had won his girl away from him. However, you know you're very young to be going 'steady" with only one girl.

* * *

DEAR MISS FAIRFAX:
My boy friend, with whom I've been going for more than a year, wants me to designate something he can do to prove his love for me. Please, Miss Fairfax, will you please tell me what to ask him to do for me? I know the best proof is to ask me to marry him, but we're only 18 and 19 and that's too young to marry.

MARTHA

Once upon a time, men did all sorts of things to prove their love for a certain fair lady, some of them absurd and foolish. They fought duels on horseback with lances, killing each other, just to show a lady how much they loved her. However, we're more intelligent nowadays.

And now, my dear, if you really want the young man to do something for you, why not be unselfish and get him to do something for himself also? And, if you should marry him this would be something for both of you. A young man, nowadays, must have some special skill or knowledge to get ahead. I suggest you urge the young man to take up a course of training of some kind, which will help him get a better job, thus swelling his pay envelope. He might take up a correspondence course, or even go to night school.

Marriage Meddlers

By ADELE GARRISON

Continuation of "Married Comrades"

Mother Graham, seated in solitary state in the dining room, gave me a cordial smile as I came through the door.

"Sit down!" she said. "I'm going to have luncheon with you, and not wait for the regular meal. I had Katie make some special dishes for you, and they're ones I like, too. There's no use wasting them on the rest of these people around here."

"Margaret!" she began impressively. "Do you plan to have Princess Olina around here much longer?"

"Why! I don't know, Mother... I offered her mother and herself a home here until they could arrange their affairs and find something to do, if father does not succeed in finding those missing emeralds. If he should find them, of course, they will have ample funds for all their possible wants, and will not have to work at anything unless they wish. But no matter what else happens, they will have to remain here until this present mysterious danger is past and my father gives the word that they may go away."

"Well!" she said. "That's a straight answer to a straight question, and, as you say, nothing can be done for awhile. But will you tell me why in Tophet Noel has to be hanging around the farmhouse?"

I tried to explain Philip Veritzen's specious reason for wishing Noel to be "in residence" at the farm.

"Fiddlesticks!" she snorted. "I never heard such nonsense. And I'm not going to have any more of it. Do you happen to know what that hussy of an Olina was up to yesterday and last night?"

"What has she been doing?" I asked guilefully, for I knew it would be fatal to spoil her story by admitting any advance knowledge of it.

"Enough, and plenty," she said, and then she told me the same tale that had just been related to me by Katharine. I gave appropriate little clucks of astonishment and sympathy, and when she had finished, she issued a royal ukase.

"Either you settle that young woman, or I do," she said.

"What—what do you mean?" I faltered.

"Exactly what I say," she snapped. "She's got to be told to leave Noel alone. And he's got to get out of here. Do you think I'm going to let my granddaughter's life be messed up by any girl, no matter how many times she's a royal princess?"

Dancing Stimulates Body

By MME. QUE VIVE

There's a merry way of keeping the feminine shape ship-shape. It's good for the fat and the thin, the short and the tall—you know 'em all! Girls that are young, not so young; those that have reached the mid-channel period and are neither old nor young. It is to dance. Skip around on your toes when the fancy seizes you and when it doesn't.

* * *

There are girls and women who are too listless or lazy or lacking in interest to give necessary exercise to their muscles, but there aren't many so lazy that they don't feel like dancing now and then. It is one way of expressing joy. So let these pretty little loafers get up and spin around on their toes. They'll not only get their blood streams chugging along at a faster pace and make their musculature sounder and stronger, but they'll experience a refreshment of spirit that will be good for a lot of things that ail them. Individuals who are sluggards are seldom attractive. They lack animation, are deficient in grace of movement.

* * *

Fuss with the radio until you catch some gay music. Clear the living room floor so you'll have plenty of space. Improvise your dance. Keep on your toes. Leap and jump if you like. Stand on your toes with your arms straight out from the shoulders, sway the upper portion of the torso, lifting your arms in the air. Be graceful. To do that you must feel grace.

Those who can't endure the routine of calesthenics because it doesn't interest them will get the same benefits from dancing. The inner organs—stomach, intestines and liver—are stimulated by the contraction of muscles.

Something New to Add Zest

By ALICE LYNN BARRY

This is just about the time of the year when the home meal begins to pall and the demand is for something different, something new, if the stay-at-homers are to be satisfied. So we present some delightful fruit dishes that are different and brimming with health.

Grapefruit Custard is the contribution of an hotel in the citrus fruit belt, so it is authentic. It takes two and one-half cups fresh grapefruit segments, four tablespoons flour, one and one-fourth cups sugar, one-fourth teaspoon salt, one and one-half cups milk, two eggs and one-fourth teaspoon vanilla. Mix together flour, one cup of sugar and salt in top of double boiler. Add four tablespoons milk; add egg yolks and beat well. Add remaining milk. Cook in double boiler about 20 minutes until thick, stirring occasionally. Remove from fire; beat till smooth. Add grapefruit segments cut into small pieces. Pour mixture into custard cups, beat egg whites, beat in remaining one-fourth cup sugar and add vanilla. Cover tops of custard with the meringue and bake in 325 degree F. oven until browned. Cool.

Favorite Tidbit.

One of the favorite tidbits of passengers on a tropical steamship run is a delicate frozen sandwich.

One and a half cups whipping cream, two tablespoons confectioners' sugar, three-fourths teaspoon vanilla, one tablespoon lemon juice, one-eighth teaspoon salt, four ripe bananas, one egg white and lady fingers, sponge cake or plain cake will make ten to 12 servings Whip one cup cream until it will form a peak, but not stiff. Add sugar, vanilla, lemon juice and salt. Fold in one thinly-sliced banana and then egg white, which has been beaten stiff but not dry. Line bottom of refrigerator tray with thin slices of sponge or plain cake placed close together. Fill tray three-fourths full with the banana mixture. Cover with additional lady fingers or cake. Press down firmly into place. Freeze till firm. Slice about three-fourths inch thick and serve with remaining bananas, sliced and added to one-half cup cream whipped.

Honey Cream Dressing is swell with fruit salad and is a favorite in Florida. It requires one-half cup strained honey, three beaten egg yolks, one-half cup oil, one-half teaspoon salt, dash of paprika, three tablespoons lemon juice, one cup cream, whipped. Heat honey to boiling point, pour slowly into beaten egg yolks, beating constantly, then cook for one minute over hot water in double boiler. Remove from fire, and beat as thick as mayonnaise—about five minutes. Then pour in gently the oil, salt and paprika and beat for two minutes longer. Cool and, just before serving, add lemon juice and fold in cream.

Waffles are so versatile that they easily solve the menu question morning, noon or night. At breakfast, crisp waffles and sizzling bacon are always welcome, while fruited waffles are especially delicious for luncheon. Unexpected guests will think you a clever hostess when, in a matter of minutes, you have a tasty hot supper ready of creamed shrimps on golden cheese waffles.

* * *

Here is a new idea for your next bridge tea: Bake biscuit dough in two-inch squares and while they're hot, split them quickly and spread ham-relish sandwich-filling mixed with chopped riped olives and salad dressing over them. Replace the tops and serve at once with hot tea or coffee.

HOROSCOPE

For Thursday, March 16.

The Lunar transits for this day point to some rather drastic activities which may have peculiar or unfathomable phases. Deep under-currents seem to be moving affairs in rather unusual channels, with possibly mystical, metaphysical or other singular influences at work behind the scenes. A keen alertness to these may turn the trends into progressive culminations.

Those whose birthday it is may find themselves at the brink of rather peculiar or dramatic crisis, in which hidden, occult or psychological factors call for great precaution and sagacity. Some sort of drastic action may be needed, but in all exercise restraint.

A child born on this day may have a peculiar endowment, with leanings to the unusual, metaphysical or revolutionary, which may on occasion incite it to drastic activity.

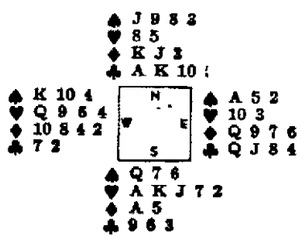
"The Authority on Authorities"

STRINGS TO YOUR BOW

It is well to have several strings to your bow. In playing a no trump contract especially, you should select the order of events that will enable you to preserve other possible ways to build the extra tricks needed for your game. If the first effort fails, you try the next one, and so on, in the hope that if any of the various methods will work, you are safe. By this procedure you avoid guessing that some one method will succeed and others will not.



(Dealer: North. Neither side vulnerable.)

North opened this deal with 1-Club, South bid 1-Heart, North 1-No trump, South 3-Hearts, and North 3-No trump, East, guessing that the original bid might have been one of those short-suit affairs, opened his fourth-best club. Declarer played low from dummy, and the 7 forced the 10.

Declarer now could count up three sure tricks in clubs, two in diamonds, two in hearts, and needed two more. Places to build extra tricks existed in every suit, even clubs if East had led from a short holding. The logical spot to begin was the hearts, where there were a couple of chances to develop both of the extra tricks. So the heart finesse was tried first. When that failed and West returned a club to the A, North laid down two top hearts, but the suit didn't break. Next he led another heart to West, building up his last for one of the extra tricks needed.

When West switched now to his diamond 2, a third try for the needed trick was made in playing the J. That was covered by the Q, and the third chance to make the contract had failed. A spade to the 9 forced the A, a diamond knocked out the K, the club K won, another spade lost to the K and West took the setting trick in diamonds. But North had the satisfaction of having given himself as many chances as possible to succeed.

Chuckovits Leads Toledo Collegians to City Tonight

Crowd to See Scoring Champ

Highly-Publicized Star Leads T. U. Teammates Against Yuncker Sports.

MANSFIELD'S largest basketball assemblage of the year is expected to be drawn to the high school tonight . . . . eyes div to see a game but more tructfully to see Charles (Chuck) Chuckovits, highly publicized Toledo university chucker.

Holder of the modern Ohio scoring records, Chuckovits, who completed his collegiate career last week, brings his Toledo university all-stars to the Tyger lair to meet the Yuncker Sports in the classiest basketball attraction to be sponsored by the City league this season.

Electrics Face Sohioans.

This attractive game will follow a preliminary tilt between the Westinghouse Electrics and Blue Goose Sohioans who are scheduled to cut the roops at 7:30 p. m.

The City league is bringing one of the all-time basketball greats of Ohio in the person of Chuckovits tonight. A product of St. Vincent's high of Akron, the ex-Toledo U. chucker has brought great fame to his college for his work on the hardwood.

Chuckovits who will play with the strong Akron Firestones when his exhibition tour does not interfere, made his debut with the crack National league team this week. Playing a guard post, Chuck led the scoring with eight points in the Firestones' 33 to 27 loss to the New York Renaissance club.

The team which he will bring with him from Toledo is composed almost entirely of former Rocket teammates. It includes Willard Swihart, Chuckovits' partner in crime for the three years at T. U., Charley Cupp and Dale Crowe, who played at the school with the Chucker two years ago, and Charlie Jones, said to be one of the finest guards in Toledo history.

Sports Add Farrell.

The Yuncker Sports will be strengthened for the game by the addition of lanky Tom Farrell, Elks' center. Other Yuncker players are Freddy Lewis, La Verne Gray, Al Stickler, Harold Hayfer, Bob Burgette and Glenn Irey. It was not known definitely today whether John Reece, Yuncker forward, would be available due to his recent illness.

Members of the Mansfield and Lucas high school quintets will be guests of the City league at the games.

FRANKIE WALLACE LOSES

NEW YORK — (AP) — Frankie Wallace, 139, Cleveland, lost a close decision in an eight-round bout last night to Maxie Berger, 139½, Montreal.

Scholastic Basketeers, Supporters Crowd Columbus on Eve of State Tourney Games

COLUMBUS — (NS) — The vanguard of 32 class A and class B basketball teams arrived in Columbus today to practice for the annual state scholastic tournament which gets underway tomorrow in the fairgrounds coliseum and Ohio State university gymnasium.

Optimistic and full of fight, the scholastic cagers and their supporters practically took over the town, crowding into downtown hotels and, in some instances, private rooming houses.

Although the weather forecast for the next few days was for possible snow and a change to colder weather, backers of the tournament expected record-breaking crowds for each of the sessions.

High water in many parts of the state had subsided and highways were expected to be jammed with automobiles bearing the folks from back home to the capital city.

Promptly at 1 p. m. tomorrow, class A games will begin in the coliseum when Bellefontaine and New Philadelphia clash, and at the same hour in the O. S. U. gymnasium Pittman and Upper Arlington will launch class B hostilities.

The Bellefontaine-New Philadelphia battle loomed as the day's outstanding attraction with the winner a heavy favorite to sweep through to the final round. In the tournament for the second successive year, New Philadelphia suffered a severe blow when its star center became ineligible because of a birthday which hiked him over the scholastic age limit.

This fact coupled with Bellefontaine's determination to make a great showing on its first trip to tournament play promised early customers plenty of excitement.

One of the outstanding class B tilts will bring together Green Township and Dunkirk. Although the Scioto county boys have been unbeaten in 29 starts, Dunkirk itself had an imposing record and there was an excellent possibility that the river boys might be unceremoniously trounced.

Harpster, Wyandot county, is the first school ever to come from that county to tournament play and was reputed to have a fast moving class B outfit. With a season record of 12 won and four lost, exclusive of district tournament play, Harpster will give Dennison a first class fight in their match.

Offensively, Bridgeport has the best squad in the A meet, the Belmont countains having averaged 43 points per game during regular season play. Its defensive record of 30, however, does not compare with the 22.6 mark of Bellefontaine's or the 20.2 defensive record compiled by Portsmouth.

Among the B fives, Maumee has the highest offensive mark, 40.4 while Upper Arlington's 19.1 figure tops defensive records among smaller schools.

Show Way In A. B. C. Doubles

Compiling 1,305 pins, Clift Maurer and Alex Graham, right, of New Philadelphia, who are well known to Mansfield bowlers, hold the lead in the doubles division of the American Bowling Congress now in progress in Cleveland. That score has won 18 of 39 tournaments. The New Philly pair won the doubles crown in the Inter-City last year with a 1,342 total, and Graham annexed the singles and all-events titles.

Presbyterians Protect Lead

Win Over Mayflower Club, 36 to 25, at Y.

The First Presbyterian cagers retained their position on top of the Class B Church league standings at the Y. M. C. A. last night when they defeated Mayflower, 36 to 25. N Wagner paced the winners with 18 points.

A basket by Moorehead in an overtime period enabled the First Christian team to defeat First M. E., 15 to 13, in the most exciting game on last night's bill. Hammett sent the game into the overtime period by converting a free throw in the closing seconds. Moorehead led the winners with 11 points.

Rayburn tallied 10 points to lead Park Avenue Baptist to a 25 to 20 triumph over South Main, and Sickmiller came through with a dozen as First Lutheran tripped St. John's 24 to 16.

Arquette, Vangler Vie In First Bout

Gordon Arquette, popular Indian light-heavyweight from Yakima, Wash., will oppose Sammy Vangler of Wheeling, W. Va., in the opener of Friday's wrestling program in the Armory. The men will wrestle for one fall with a 30-minute time limit.

Signing of the bout late yesterday completed the card being offered by the Quality club, through matchmaker Tim Nolan. Top bout of the bill sends Kimon Kudo of Japan against Frankie Hart of Canada; semi-final action pits the Masked Marvel against young Davey Reynolds.

Closes Tight Race Tonight

Church League Title May Be Shared by Four Teams.

One guess is as good as another as far as the outcome of the second half championship race in the Class A Church league is concerned.

The league will roll down the curtain on the schedule at the Y. M. C. A. tonight, and it is possible for four teams to finish the race in the tie.

Park Avenue Baptist and Mayflower tied for first place, meet First Lutheran and First M. E., when are deadlocked for the next position in tonight's games.

The Baptists meet First Lutheran, first half champion, in the last game at 9:45 p. m., while Mayflower and First M. E. vie in the second tilt at 7:45. The Lutherans and Methodists can tie by winning tonight.

Central M. E. tackles Temple Emanuel at 6:45 p. m., and St. John's Evangelical and First Episcopal tangle at 8:45.

Junior Pilots Meet Saturday

Plans for the junior baseball program to be sponsored by Ira Kochheiser, operator of the Athletic Supply store have been completed.

A meeting of all managers of teams with players 14 years of age or under will be held at the Baseball Headquarters clubrooms, 68½ North Main street, at 10 a. m. Saturday.

The league will be known as the "Huck Finn" league and will open the season Friday, April 11. It will close prior to the opening of the city recreation program, Kochheiser said, and will in no way interfere with this annual project. There is no cost to participants in the league.

Indoor training has already started at the headquarters, and players may join these workouts by reporting to Jeff Holmquist, who will direct the "Huck Finn" program.

Reach Finals In Mitt Meet

Carbetta, Glover, Jones Return to Marion Thursday.

Three Friendly House boxers reached the finals in their respective divisions in the fifth annual Golden Gloves tournament now in progress in Marion.

Defending Champion Paul Carbetta, Beuford Glover and Jimmy Jones to return to Marion Thursday night for the title bouts.

Carbetta avenged a recent defeat in the semi-finals in his division last night when he won over Eddie Talley of Crestline in the third round on a technical knockout. The Mansfielder, who lost to Talley on the recent Friendly House show, scored knockdowns in every round before the referee halted the bout.

Ray Howman of Ashland was Glover's knockout victim in the second round. The Friendly House slugger blasted the Ashlander to the canvas twice in the opening stanza as he continued his victorious march.

The other Mansfielder advanced to the finals on a bye.

Bob Emerson and his brother John, of the Y. M. C. A. stable lost to Bill Richardson of Marion and Slugger Berry of Marion respectively, on decisions.

Ernie McKinley of Ashland outpointed Tommy Dellondet of Bellefontaine, and Phil Ganzi of Crestline kayoed Bill Harner of Marion in the second round.

BUCK WEAVER WINS

INDIANAPOLIS —Buck Weaver, 178, Terre Haute, Ind., scored Lord Lansdowne, 181, Barrington, England, two of three falls.

Tygers Set for First Tourney Foe

Engage Akron Club Thursday

Mansfield Cagers Meet Opponent Beaten Only by Findlay, Hamilton and Buchtel.

By OSCAR RUHL, News-Journal Sports Editor.

SHORTLY after breakfast tomorrow, Coach Russ Murphy and his squad of Tygers will depart for Columbus and the Ohio interscholastic basketball tournament.

Carrying the hopes of the entire district as well as Mansfield, the home town high school courtiers engage one of the pre-tournament favorites in the Akron North club in the Coliseum at the state fairground at 3 p. m.

Mansfield's championship prospects are not rated highly, according to the dope emanating from Columbus, but season records usually carry little weight in deciding the state tutular honors.

Newark, for instance, went into the Ohio finals a year ago sporting the poorest record of any tournament team, but the Licking county basketeers gave a series of the greatest demonstrations ever witnessed on the Coliseum court to annex the crown.

Compile Better Record.

There is no question that the Tygers engage one of the stronger teams in the elimination. The Akron Vikings have compiled a record superior to Mansfield's, and against the same caliber of foes as the Tygers have met.

North has accumulated 17 victories in 20 games with two of the three defeats administered by Findlay and Akron Buchtel coming by one-point margins.

The Vikings, coached by Lou Hosfelt, former Oberlin star, did not lose any prestige by bowing to Findlay and Akron Buchtel as both of these teams have proven their mettle by also advancing to the state tourney.

The worst defeat handed the Vikings was against Hamilton, which also defeated the Tygers during the regular season.

North, which tied for the Border league title in the Rubber City with Garfield and Buchtel, Akron's other representatives in the state classic, lists Portsmouth, one of the most feared clubs in the state meet, and Canton McKinley among its victims. The Vikings produced a 32 to 19 triumph at the expense of Canton McKinley, which split a home-and-home series with the Mansfield cats this season.

The Akronites play practically the same type of basketball as the Bellevue quintet, which the Tygers trimmed to retain the district crown last week.

They feature a fast-breaking attack, and possess the height to make this style probably more effective than could the Redmen.

Major threats on the club are

Page Dairys Play In Willard Tonight

The 5th annual Willard independent basketball tournament will open Wednesday night in the Willard high school gym with the Page Dairys, one of the two Mansfield entries, meeting the Willard Square Deal Dairys in the 10:15 p. m. game. Tonight's program of seven games opens at 6:30.

The Yuncker Sports, City league champions, meet the Elyria General Industries at 7:15 p. m., Friday.

Thursday's tournament schedule: Republic Grange vs. New London White Lincos, 6:30; Akron Connelly Tubes vs. Marion Earl Dairys, 7:15; Akron Spotlights vs. Huron Ingleside, 8:45, and Doylestown Killian Clothes vs. Sandusky Eddies Pies.

Stagehand Retired Due to Leg Injury

MIAMI, Fla.—(U.P.)—The bad luck that has dogged last year's "big horses" overtook Stagehand, leading money-winner of 1938, today. Col. E. Maxwell Howard announced retirement of the colt for a year because of a leg injury.

A similar leg injury made Seabiscuit pass up the $100,000 Santa Anita handicap. A fever forced War Admiral out of the $50,000 Widener challenge cup race.

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. — Wesley Ramey, 135, Grand Rapids outpointed Wishy Jones, 136, Louisville, Ky., (10).

Sanduskian Hits 683 At Meder Pin Alleys

Moore Leads Visitors to Win Over Schoolmasters; Applan, Schmidt Pace Tire League.

AN OUT-OF-TOWN bowler took the play away from the Mansfield keglers at the Recreation alleys last night. The sharpshooting visitor was Bill Moore of Sandusky, who led the Schoolmasters of that city to a 2829 to 2297 victory over the Mansfield Schoolmasters in a special match.

Moore pounded the uprights for a classy 683 total, which included games of 230, 238 and 215. Smith of the Sandusky team contributed a 620.

FINISHING with a 235, Jack Applan of the Foremen blasted the uprights for a 620 total to set the individual scoring pace in the Mansfield Tire league. Applan led his team to a high 2591 total, which was good for two wins over the Tire Room.

Nick Schmidt blasted out a 606 as the Air Bag No. 1 team collected a pair of wins over the Inspectors. The Mansfield service store was next high in team scoring with a 2561. This total was good for only one win over the Columbia Warehouse.

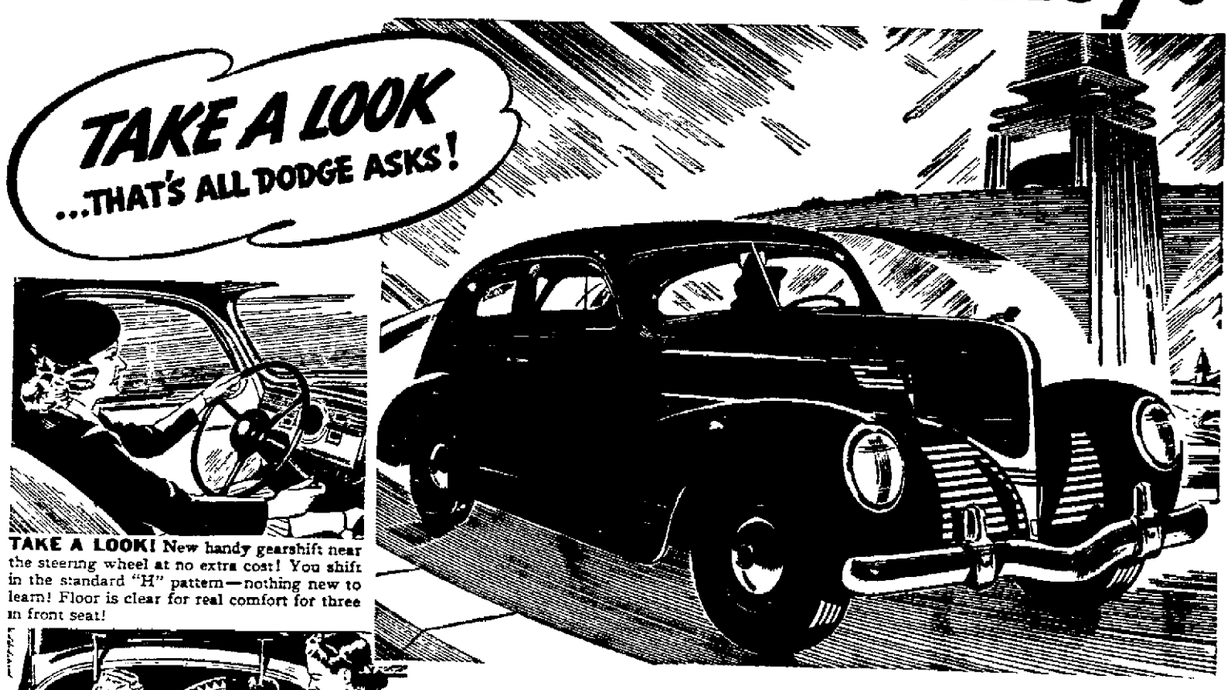
What Big 1939 Car was Built to Save You Money?



TAKE A LOOK! New handy gearshift near the steering wheel at no extra cost! You shift in the standard "H" pattern—nothing new to learn! Floor is clear for real comfort for three in front seat!

TAKE A LOOK! "Tea for Two" is easily possible in this new 27% larger Dodge luggage compartment! Unlike old "trunk style" compartments, it's completely concealed beneath windstreamed rear ensemble!

TAKE A LOOK! New Dodge Engine with all the famous Dodge economy features, plus new advances which give even more efficient operation!

AT first sight, it's the new beauty of the 1939 Dodge that wins you. For never before has any Dodge offered such advanced design, such breath-taking new style and appointments!

But after you've feasted your eyes on Dodge's windstreamed new beauty, you'll eventually ask yourself: "Is this the car that gives me most for my money?"..."How much will Dodge save me on gas and oil?"

These are the questions that mean so much to thrift-minded motorists. And, in answering them, Dodge thinks you should let your own good judgment decide. And so we say: "Take a look... that's all Dodge asks!"

Take a look first at the famous Dodge Floating Power Engine. It not only gives you all the proven money-saving features that have won for Dodge a nation-wide reputation for economy, but, for 1939, offers new engineering advancements for even more efficient operation! Remember, too, that Dodge Dependability means even greater economy in longer life and freedom from repair!

Take a look, too, at all the extra value you get for your money! Never has any new model Dodge offered so many new engineering ideas as this new 1939 Luxury Liner—they're all yours at no extra cost!

New Lower Prices!

And—most important of all—take a look at the price tag! Here's where you'll get your biggest money-saving surprise, for this big, economical 1939 Dodge is priced even lower than last year's Dodge! You'll be amazed at what a small difference there is between Dodge prices and those of the leading low-priced cars!

Tune in on the Major Bowes Original Amateur Hour, Columbia Network, Thursdays, 9:00 to 10:00 P. M. Eastern Standard Time

GOOD NEWS FOR USED CAR BUYERS!

Now you can get a Dodge used car which, in many ways, is just as modern as many competitive-make 1939 new cars—and get it for only a fraction of the cost! Here's why: there's such a great demand for the new 1939 Dodge that buyers are actually turning in fine late model Dodge cars "way" ahead of time! And these cars, still "youngsters" in mileage and looks, are being sold by Dodge dealers at amazingly low prices! What's more, the demand for the new 1939 Dodge by owners of other makes of cars is giving your Dodge dealer one of the finest assortments of all makes and models of used cars in your locality! See your nearby Dodge dealer today!

ACHING COLDS

Relieve Their DISTRESS This Easy, Quick Way!

To bring speedy relief from the discomfort of chest colds, muscular rheumatic aches and pains due to colds—you need more than "just a salve"—use a stimulating "counter-irritant" like good old warming, soothing Musterole. It penetrates the surface skin breaking up local congestion and pain resulting from colds.

Even better than a mustard plaster—Musterole has been used by millions for over 30 years. Recommended by many doctors and nurses. In three strengths: Regular, Children's (mild) and Extra Strong. 40¢. Approved by Good Housekeeping Bureau. All druggists.

Shilling In Fight For Job

Rookie Second Sacker Stars as Indians Turn Back Pelicans, 6 to 1.

NEW ORLEANS—(U.P.)—Rookie Jim Shilling is making a determined bid for the Cleveland Indians' second-basing job. Yesterday against the New Orleans Pelicans, he was the sparkplug of the Tribe's 6-1 victory. He accepted nine chances without a bobble, participated in three double-plays, and got two hits.

Oscar Grimes, favorite for the keystone sack position, was moved to first, where he made a good showing. He started the Tribal attack with a home run in the third inning.

Johnny Humphries started on the mound for the Indians, to be followed by Charlie Suche and Joe Dobson. Humphries, least effective of the three, was the first top flight Indian pitcher to take the mound in a game this year. Ken Keltner made his first appearance of the season at third.

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla.—(U.P.)—Ray Blades was looking for a new solution today to the St. Louis Cards' catching problem. As the Cards were being beaten 9-2 by the Reds yesterday Don Padgett, whom Blades had converted from outfielder to catcher, tripped while rounding second base. He regained his feet and tried to return to the bag but stumbled again and fell on his left shoulder. At a local hospital his injury was diagnosed as a dislocation, which would keep him inactive for a month.

* * *

AVALON, Calif.—(U.P.)—Rookie Steve Messner received new tributes in the Chicago Cubs training camp today for his consistent hitting in three Cubs-Yannigan games. Messner, whose batting was instrumental in Yannigan victories in two previous games, replaced Third baseman Stan Hack in the regular lineup yesterday and hit a homer which helped the regulars to a 13 to 2 victory.

* * *

Buck, Boss Still At Odds on Salary.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. — (U.P.) — Here in the city of the Alamo, Bill DeWitt of the St. Louis Browns and his star pitcher, Buck Newsom, are fighting it out over salary.

Long and lanky Buck wants $10,000 and not a cent less to pitch for the Browns this year. General Manager DeWitt says that amount is roughly $7,000 more than he is worth.

"Newsom can stay out here forever before he'll get $20,000 from us," DeWitt said. "We always have been fair with him, and we want to be fair with him now, but he isn't worth that sort of money."

AVALON, Cal. — (INS) — With Southpaw Earle Whitehill out of action for a month with a fractured ankle, and Shortstop Dick Bartell in a hospital with an ankle made sore by rheumatism, Chicago Cub Manager Gabby Hartnett was not the happiest man in camp today.

OHIO STATE FAVORITE IN EASTERN PLAYOFFS

PHILADELPHIA—(U.P.)—Ohio State was rated a slight favorite today to win the eastern playoffs of the National Intercollegiate Athletic association's basketball tournament at the University of Pennsylvania's Palestra Friday and Saturday nights.

The Buckeyes, Big Ten champions, will meet Wake Forest's high scoring quintet in the second game of a doubleheader Friday night. Villanova and Brown will clash in the first game. The two survivors will battle it out Saturday night for the right to meet the western finalist for the national championship.

PERRONI KAYOES FOE

ROCHESTER, N. Y. — (AP) — Pash Perroni, 184, Cleveland, last night knocked out Sandy McDonald, 204, Texas, in the fourth round of a scheduled 10 round bout.

TYGERS SET FOR FIRST TOURNAMENT FOE

Stan Baughman, six-foot-four-inch center, and Ralph Vinciguerra, a guard, who were selected on the all-Akron high school team.

Rarin' to Go.

The Tygers are in splendid condition for their return to the state tourney, and Murphy said today that he will employ the same lineup he used in the district event.

In addition to the starters, Tommy Scott, Jake Lyons, Dave Shelley, Jack Dugger and Ike Smith, the squad will include Bill Herpick, Bob Beer, Rich Nagle, Don Rose and Dick Rudolph.

If victorious in their opener, the Tygers will be matched with either Bridgeport or Akron Buchtel in the quarter-finals Friday afternoon.

Thursday's schedule of games in the Class A bracket follows: Bellefontaine vs New Philadelphia—1 p. m. Massillon vs Findlay—2 p. m. Akron North vs Mansfield—3 p. m. Bridgeport vs Akron Buchtel—4 p. m. Toledo Devilbiss vs. Cincinnati Roger Bacon — 6 p. m. Cleveland Shaw vs Bexley—7 p. m. Portsmouth vs Dayton Fairview—8 p. m. Akron Garfield vs Bryan—9 p. m.

THE Story of Vernon and Irene Castle," will be released on Irene Castle's birthday, April 2. It is the new Ginger Rogers-Fred Astaire film. . . . The tragedy of Herbert Mundin's death depressed Hollywood. His last film was "Penthouse," scenes for which were completed the night before he was killed. . . . After the preview of "You Can't Cheat an Honest Man," Bill Fields left for a 2,000-mile motor trip through New Mexico, Arizona and below the border. . . . Louise Campbell who is comparatively unknown, gets a break in "The Star Makers" in which she supports Bing Crosby. . . .

High Point of Career.

"The Beachcomber" which opens at the Ohio today, marks a high point in the career of Charles Laughton, English motion picture player, who has given the screen some of its very finest performances. Based on a Somerset Maugham story, the film gives Laughton the role of Ginger Ted, slovenly, depraved, drunken remittance man in the Dutch East Indies. His reformation is the work of a determined missionary and the ending is delightfully Laughton-ish. Elsa Lanchester, Laughton's wife in private life, plays Miss Jone.

* * *

"St. Louis Blues."

Dorothy Lamour makes the most of her sarong in "St. Louis Blues," the picture which gave the air to George Raft and ushered in Lloyd Nolan as a romantic leading man. As a "sarong girl" who gets awfully fed up with performing as a South Sea Islander, Miss Lamour runs away and boards a river boat called the St. Louis Blues. She gets a job singing and her first assignment is to sing—in a sarong. Music includes "Let's Dream in the Moonlight," "Blue Nightfall," and "I Go For That." The picture, with "Disbarred," a Gail Patrick film, make up the double feature bill at the Madison Thursday.

* * *

Blind Man's Bluff.

A blind man is made a member of a gang which he has sworn to depose, according to the novel plot of "Blind Alibi," which brings Richard Dix to the Park theater for the remainder of the week. Ace, the Wonder Dog, adds interest to the picture as appearing as the "Seeing Eye" for the blind man. A college story, "Swing That Cheer," with Andy Devine, Tom Brown, Robert Wilcox and Constance Moore, will be shown.

* * *

Biggest Western Show.

Gene Autry, biggest of all the Western stars at the box office, comes to the Ritz tomorrow in his new picture "Western Jamboree," which will be shown in Mansfield for the first time. Smiley Burnette and the comedian, Joe Frisco and Esther Muir support the star. Autry's name is synonimous with action and music and he gives out with both in his new film. Although still at the Circle J ranch he tangles with international spies. The second film is "Young Doctor Kildare" with Lew Ayers and Lionel Barrymore.

They Find Excitement.

Michael Whalen and Chick Chandler are two excitement-seeking newshounds who get up to their typewriters in mystery when Whalen, recovering from a "bust" begins his column with "I am the lonliest man in New York—where is the lonliest girl?" The girl turns up in the person of Jean Rogers and things begin to happen immediately. The Majestic runs this film, and "College Swing" through Thursday.

BAH! THERE NEVER WAS THE JAIL THAT COULD HOLD AXEL- THIS OLD RAT-TRAP- TIN CAN--- THIS STUPID MARSHAL-- IGNORANT GUARD--
BUT THEY SHOOT WITH THE SO DEADLY ACCURACY-
3-15 39
AND EVEN ONCE OUTSIDE WE ARE NOT FREE-
NO MONEY- NO CREDENTIALS-
SOON AGAIN WE WOULD BE TAKEN-
FOOLS- DO YOU NOT REALIZE AXEL HAS A PLAN?
AND THE PLANS OF AXEL LEAVE NOTHING TO THE FICKLE CHANCE- NO- WE MUST ESCAPE--- AND QUICKLY--- NOW, LISTEN WITH CARE---
SH-H---!
COMES FOOT STEPS!
AH! IT IS OUR SO GOOD FRIEND, THE MARSHAL WITH OUR FINE DINNER--- SHEP--- UM-M--IT SMELLS DELICIOUS-
HI, BOYS! DURN NEAR FORGOT YOU TO NEAR WAL, DON'T- OVERHEAT- HA! HA!

Farmers are now told not to let their hogs get overweight, excess fat spoiling the bacon. Maybe that's right but somehow we don't think we'll ever become accustomed to streamliner pigs.

Penguins, we read, are the only birds to walk absolutely erect. And the only ones nutty enough to make their home at the South Pole.

Since New York World's Fair officials estimate 30,000,000 hot dogs will be consumed by visitors, the theme center should be changed from trylon and perisphere to a recumbent wiener surrounded by a bisected bun.

MARKET BRACED BY ADVANCE IN AIRCRAFT LIST

Rally Spurred by Agreement of Conferees on Air Bill to Permit Profit Hike.

BULLETIN

NEW YORK — (INS) — The stock market broke $1 to $3 a share today on apprehension created by the new German dismemberment of Czechoslovakia. A rush of selling swept the list at the beginning of the second hour, sending the ticker three minutes behind. All sections of the market were affected.

(By Associated Press)

NEW YORK—A rally in aircrafts braced the stock market today for a partial recovery of early losses.

Tending higher were Douglas, United Aircraft, Boeing and Dow Chemical.

Bonds mostly sagged. Commodities were uneven in narrow markets.

The rise in aircrafts apparently was spurred by the agreement of senate and house conferees on the air defense bill to raise permitted profits on government contracts for planes to 12 per cent from 10.

March gains in steel production so far have not been up to seasonal expectations for the month, which frequently has been the peak period of the year, said "Iron Age." The trade publication added, however, that "hopes have strengthened that recovery in steel volume will extend well through the second quarter at least.

A February increase in machine tool orders to the highest level in more than a year encouraged business observers to look for more improvement in the durable goods industries.

HITLER BUILDS UNIQUE RETREAT

At the summit, the elevator doors open to a marvellous view of snow-capped mountains roundabout, of green meadows far below, and of Hitler's "Berghof" nestling like a little toy house far, far down.

A simple tea house, built against a huge rock, is constructed in the same Bavarian peasant style as the buildings generally in this part of Germany.

A glass-encased veranda on three sides—to the east, south, and west—allows practically continuous sunshine until sundown.

In this retreat Der Fuehrer at last has the perfect solitude that he craves for thinking about problems of state.

Only on the rarest occasions is any foreigner invited up to this perch. The first thus honored was the departing French ambassador, Andre Francois-Poncet. He clicked well with Hitler. Hence, as a mark of special honor, the fuehrer took him personally to his retreat on Oct. 18, 1938, for a last conference on German-French relations.

The second foreigner was Crown Prince Michael. While his father, King Carol, was conferring at the "Berghof" with Adolf Hitler on Nov. 24, 1938, the young man was taken up to the top of the Kehlstein for tea.

So small is the number of those who have been on the top that even Capt. Fritz Weidemann (Hitler's close associate, who recently was named consul general at San Francisco) confessed he had never been on the Kehlstein.

The general public knows nothing about the retreat. No publicity has been given it. The few pictures that have been taken are locked up in the secret archives of Hitler's personal photographer and official cameraman for the Nazi movement, Prof. Heinrich Hoffmann of Munich.

NAZI TROOPS PARADE INTO CZECH CAPITAL

The Czech short wave radio station which broadcasts programs to the United States had been shut down by the Germans.

Loud speakers at intervals admonished the population to remain quiet when the troops entered.

It explained that they were coming by agreement between Chancellor Hitler of Germany, President Hacha and Foreign Minister Frantisek Chvalkovsky.

Jews Panic-Stricken.

Jews (there are about 35,000 in Prague and between 500 and 1,000 German emigres were panic-stricken.

They sought ways of leaving what was Czechoslovakia but exits were closed. Many went into hiding.

They went to bed with a safe feeling in Czechoslovakia Monday night.

Last night they went to bed in Bohemia with an uneasy feeling. They got up this morning in a state subject to German wishes. A boundary had passed over them during the night.

Fuehrer Hurries to Join Nazi Troops.

BERLIN —(AP)— Reichsfuehrer Hitler left Berlin early today to join German troops marching into Bohemia and Moravia to "protect" Czechs in that part of the shattered Czecho-Slovak republic.

When he followed his troops in the Austrian annexation he was hailed by Nazis as "the great liberator." Today his avowed role was that of "protector."

Six months ago he made a grand entry into Sudetenland, won from Czecho-Slovakia by the Munich pact.

German soldiers already had reached Prague, capital of the fallen republic, and their comrades goose-stepped into other sections of Bohemia and Moravia which formed the Czech part of Czecho-Slovakia.

Government Dissolved.

The occupation of Bohemia and Moravia was decided on and the proclamation issued at a three-hour conference between Hitler and Czech president Emil Hacha at the Berlin chancellery.

DNB, the official German news agency, which first disclosed Hitler would make a dramatic entry into the Czech protectorate, announced no specific destination, merely saying the Fuehrer was going to join his troops.

DNB announced that Pizen (Pilsen), and Olmuetz were occupied after a march over icy and, in some places, snow-covered roads. Plzen, in western Bohemia, once was the principal seat of Czechoslovakia's great Skoda arms works.

An Associated Press reporter posted at Leitmeritz, on the northern Sudetenland-Bohemia boundary, said that snowfall dampened the 'heils!" of the handful of persons gathered there as smartly-trained German troops crossed into the Czech zone.

Roads Jammed.

The two narrow main roads leading toward Prague from Theresienstadt were jammed with motorized equipment and marching men—but part of the German forces of occupation converging on Bohemia and Moravia.

The few who witnessed Germany's third historic border crossing within a year said it was brilliant for its military execution but sadly lacking in welcoming atmosphere.

The Prague ministry of trade announced work must be continued in all factories and shops. The ministry of education likewise said schools should continue and requested all pupils to appear for classes as usual

Postal and railway officials were made personally responsible for the smooth functioning of their offices.

Occupation of the Bohemia-Moravia district was decided upon at a three-hour early morning conference between Hitler and the Czech president, Emil Hacha.

URGES $600,000 IN WATER BONDS

C. of C. to Ask Council This Evening to Place Issue on Ballot in Primary.

doing us no good," VanDerau said. "We know our needs and it is time that we did something about the conditions that have created a serious fire hazard to the city."

He pointed out that according to the report more than 60 per cent of the city water mains were of 4-inch or smaller.

VanDerau said today he would advocate two plans to city council tonight. The first will be for a bond issue of $800,000 to retire the present indebtedness of the water department and provide funds for city-wide improvements. The other will be to let the present bonds of approximately $200,000, most of which will be retired in 1942, "run their course" and seek the $600,000 for rehabilitating the distribution system.

He pointed out that he would ask council to seek the funds to provide for the improvement included in the first three brackets of the survey providing only for the present needs of the city.

"The Woodland area is rather well taken care of with the exception of the north and northwest section," VanDerau said, "but the other parts of the city have as yet had no relief from under-sized mains."

He termed the water distribution system a "crazy quilt of patches" brought about by the lack of funds to provide for the proper improvement.

MEET IN SHELBY

32 Schools to Send 300 to District Debate Contest.

SHELBY—More than three hundred high school students will be entertained in this city when the annual state meeting of the Ohio district of the National Forensic league is held at the high school April 3-5, school officials announced today. Approximately 32 schools are expected to participate in the three-day meet.

The state meeting will open with registration at 9:30 a. m. at the school building. A general meeting of the contestants will be held at the school auditorium. Welcoming addresses will be given by Supt. C. G. Keck of the Shelby schools, Principal O. H. Schaaf of the high school, E. J. Diller of Youngstown, state chairman and Shelby Speech Director Schindler.

During the meeting, two students will be elected to represent the Ohio district at the National Student congress which will be held next June at Beverly Hills, Cal. The election of a state chairman of the Ohio district will also take place. Contests in debating, extemporaneous speaking, and oratorical, humorous and dramatic declamation will be held during the three-day event here. Meals will be served the contestants at the school cafeteria.

last fall and a note of $8,058 issued Feb. 1, against anticipated state tax revenues through 1942, Kelley said. No funds have been received so far this year from the state from this source, he explained.

Meanwhile the county today had paid off approximately $10,300 of its old relief debt from a $20,000 emergency allocation from the state.

Of that amount, $7,000 went to retire maturing relief bonds authorized by the state, and $3,396 was paid to the First National Bank at Shelby on a note issued last year to provide relief funds. Two other notes for a total of about $9,000 are not due until 1940.

County Auditor Norman L. Wolfe said that the city or county sub-divisions cannot share in the $9,700 balance in the state funds for payment of old relief debts.

The fund, representing the balance of a $20,000 allocation after the county retired its debt obligations, must be held by the county for future payments on maturing bonds and notes, Wolfe said.

Man, Woman Found Dead In Auto; Both Leave Notes.

HADDON HEIGHTS, N. J.—(INS)—Their identities cloaked in mystery, a man and woman were found asphyxiated by carbon monoxide fumes in a sedan parked on a Haddon Heights street today. They died, police believe, in a suicide pact.

Detectives asserted the man left a note addressed to his wife and that the woman left a note addressed to her husband.

Here's good advice for a woman during her change (usually from 38 to 52), who fears she'll lose her appeal to men, who worries about hot flashes, loss of pep, dizzy spells, upset nerves and moody spells.

Just get more fresh air, 8 hrs. sleep and if you need a reliable "WOMAN'S" tonic take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made especially for women. It helps Nature build up physical resistance, thus helps give more vivacity to enjoy life and assist calming jittery nerves and those disturbing symptoms that often accompany change of life. Pinkham's is WELL WORTH trying.

$8,000 PAID OUT IN DISTRICT BY UCC SINCE JAN. 1

943 Checks Sent to Jobless in Richland-Morrow Area; Average $9 Weekly.

More than $8,000 has been received by Richland and Morrow county unemployed in unemployment insurance benefits paid by the Ohio Unemployment Compensation commission during the first two months the law has been in operation, the state UCC headquarters reported today.

The report shows that 943 payments totaling $8,147.78 were paid to jobless workers in this district. The average amount of payments for total unemployment was $9.09 and the average check for partial unemployment was $4.56, both of which were slightly below the state average.

Since the first of the year the branch office here has received 1,204 claims of which 800 have been allowed. The claims of 3,316 have been continued, the report said, while 218 were rejected.

Knox Workers Get $9,300.

The largest number of checks were issued in Cuyahoga county where 26,810 claimants received $265,701. Ashland county's 200 claimants received $1,997.45, Crawford county's 597 unemployed $7,390.51, and 393 jobless in Knox county received checks totaling $9,301.13.

The employment service division of the commission in this district found jobs for 23 persons in private employment in January and 34 in February, as well as making 25 regular placements. There were also 21 persons given employment in governmental service including WPA.

The report disclosed that there were 663 applications for work, 456 of which were filed in January and 265 in February.

It was also disclosed that employers contributions to the UCC trust fund at the end of February totaled $112,326,572.25, including $2,310,599.17 interest.

Under the unemployment compensation law, a person who has worked 20 weeks of the past 52 weeks is eligible to file a claim for benefits, which cannot exceed more than 50 per cent of his average weekly wage and not more than $15. Benefits are paid for 16 weeks if the claimant remains unemployed.

MAKE COWS WALK AND SAVE $500

Cattlemen Cut Out Freight Charges on Herd of 423 Head.

PERRYTON, Tex.—(AP)—A cattle drive reminiscent of the big trail drives that ended in the nineties, has been accomplished this winter by Clifford and W. L. Herndon, ranchers.

They drove 423 head from Ute, N. M., to their ranches in Ochiltree county, Texas. The drive was for 255 miles.

Five cowhands drove the cattle and bedded them at night. Absent was the chuck wagon. A modern pickup truck served that purpose.

The cattle were on the trail three weeks; none was lost and no rustlers were encountered. The Herndons said they saved $500 in transportation costs by driving the herd.

SUES FOR $5,000

Woman Hurt In Fall Brings Action Against Apartment Owner.

Asking $5,000 damages for arm and shoulder injuries she received in a fall downstairs at an apartment at 242½ North Main street, Mrs. Mae Turner had filed a suit in common pleas court today against Jesse O. Byers, owner of the building where the accident occurred.

Mrs. Turner contends in her petition that Byers neglected to erect a handrail along the stairway which resulted in her injury. Her left arm was fractured and her shoulder was bruised in the fall, she said. The mishap occurred last Dec. 24.

HEAR OF PLAN TONIGHT TO GIVE INDIGENT PUPILS DENTAL CARE

Proposed dental care for school children in indigent families will be outlined to representatives of four Mansfield organizations when they meet tonight to discuss the feasibility of sponsoring such a program here in co-operation with the Mansfield Dental Study club and the city health department.

The plan will be laid before the group by Dr. R. B. Moyer, chairman of the dental club's health committee which formulated the program at a meeting last week. Other members of the committee are Drs. R. K. Ort, John Bristor and R. H. Frey.

The tentative program already approved by the dentists calls for the care of indigent children at dentist's offices at a cost based on the state industrial commission's rates, which amount to about 40 per cent of the regular rates.

The dentists would work on such cases as have been approved by the health department, Dr. Moyer said.

Representatives of the Delta Theta Tau sorority, Art Study club, Student club and Mansfield council Parent-Teachers associations will meet at 7:30 p. m. in the offices of the health department in the city building to hear the proposal.

The plan to sponsor a dental program has been considered by the Delta Theta Tau sorority for the past six months.

Representatives of the sorority met with Dr. Roy C. Rehder, city-county health commissioner last fall and discussed the program which it is estimated would cost $5,000 annually.

Health department records for the past two years show that approximately 50 per cent of the children examined in the schools have been found to have defective teeth.

HELP STOMACH DIGEST FOOD
Without Laxatives—and You'll Eat Everything From Soup to Nuts

The stomach should digest two pounds of food daily. When you eat hasty, greasy, coarse or rich foods or when you are nervous, hurried or chew poorly—your stomach often pours out too much fluid. Your food doesn't digest and you have gas, heartburn, nausea, pain or sour stomach. You feel sour, sick and upset all over.

Doctors say never take a laxative for stomach pain. It is dangerous and foolish. It takes those little black tablets called Bell-ans for indigestion to make the excess stomach fluids harmless, relieve distress in no time and put you back on your feet. Relief is as quick it is amazing and the 25c package proves it. Ask for Bell-ans for Indigestion.

GALION PLANS TO COMPETE IN STATE CONTEST

Histronic Students Defeat Mt. Gilead High; Present Play at O. S. U.

GALION—By winning the decision of Prof. William Craig, head of the department of speech at Capital university, Columbus, Galion high school dramatists who competed with Mt. Gilead high school histronic students here Tuesday night, will entitle the Galion group to compete in the statewide one-act play contest to be held at Ohio state university, Columbus, Mar. 24 and 25.

Senior high school auditorium was filled last night to hear and see the two schools present their plays.

Give 'Little Bluffer.'

Mt. Gilead's play, "The Little Bluffer" was directed by Gertrude Van Sickle. Those taking part in the production were Paul Indenmeyer, Dorothy England, Geraldine Watson, Naomi Lee and Bob Osborn. The stage managers were George West and Charles Tharp.

Directed by Hilda Schooley, the Galion players presented the third act of "The Enemy." Those who took part were Mary Frances Fulton, Billie Marie Ibach, Richard Rose, Elizabeth Pollay, Mart Helfrich, jr., and Carl Crissinger. Stage production crew included Robert Shupp, Eugene Valsimides, Billy Grubaugh and Eugene Jack.

Prof. Craig gave a brief criticism of each play before he announced the Galion school as the winner. His preference for the Galion play was because of the ability of the players to keep their personalities and to portray the imaginary scene. He highly commended the acting ability of Richard Rose, and stated that Rose and Mart Helfrich were always to pick up the tempo of the play when it lagged. The girls needed more volume, the cirtic stated.

In commenting upon the Mt. Gilead play, Craig stated that he felt the play was well cast, but the tempo was slow. He also had the feeling that the actors were reading their lines more than acting their parts. He stated that the play showed careful preparation on the part of the director.

FUNERAL SET

Rites for Mrs. Shafer to Be Held at Galion Thursday.

GALION—Funeral services for Mrs. Mary Ann Shafer, 86, will be private Thursday at 2 p. m. at the Volk funeral home. Rev. O. E. Knapp, pastor of the United Brethren church, will officiate, and burial will be in Fairview cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home until Thursday noon.

Mrs. Shafer died Tuesday at 9 a. m. at the Good Samaritan hospital after an illness of the past eight years.

She was born Jan. 16, 1853, in Richland county, the daughter of the late John and Nancy Shade. Her marriage was to Henry C. Shafer on Dec. 22, 1872, and he died Jan. 5, 1934. She was a member of the United Brethren church.

Surviving are three sons and a daughter: Charles Shafer of Canton, Budd Shafer of Bucyrus, Albert Shafer of Galion and Mrs. Dessie Poole of Cleveland. A grandson also survives.

LEXINGTON—The first of the new mid-week services at the Lexington Congregational church will be held at 7:30 p. m. Wednesday. Rev. Chester A. Thompson, pastor, will conduct the service and speak on the subject, "The Bread of Life." Discussions by members of the congregation will follow the sermon.

BROTHERHOOD IN BUCYRUS HEARS OHIO LAWMAKER

Petri, Crawford County's Representative, Talks on Legislative Work.

BUCYRUS—History of the Ohio legislature and the system followed in introducing and passing legislative bills were discussed by Rep. Kenneth Petri of Galion at a meeting of the Methodist church Brotherhood Monday night.

After explaining the routine of bill introductions Petri told the group how lobbist activities are carried on and explained that he opposes the proposed unicameral legislature on the grounds that it would throw too much strength to the urban representatives who, too often, he said, do not offer legislation for the benefit of all of the people.

He voiced his opposition to the Burn Ohio Coal act because it would "set up barriers" between the states. He said that he was wholly in accord with the present administration's program to end earmarking of state funds because such earmarking enables one fund to amass a huge total while another fund "goes broke."

CHURCH WORKERS WORK

BUCYRUS — United Brethren ministers and their wives from Shelby, Willard, Tiro, Cardington, Attica, Marion, Mansfield and several other smaller cities gathered here today for the annual joint conference of U. B. Workers at the local U. B. church.

Rev. V. H. Allman of Bluffton, conference superintendent, opened the meeting this morning.

DIRECTORS NAMED AGAIN

BUCYRUS—All directors of the Zeigler Milling company were re-elected at a meeting of the policyholders here Tuesday in the examiners' room of the courthouse.

Re-elected were Otto Meister, Olen Kiess, L. E. Wilson, Edwin Yaussy and J. R. Brinkman.

PLAN NEW DAM AT CELERYVILLE

CELERYVILLE—Plans are being completed for the construction of a new dam at the Marsh run in Celeryville following partial destruction of the old one in the recent flood.

With new ditches being constructed and the old ones cleaned out, a much greater volume of water flows through the Marsh run than previously, and it is believed that a larger dam will be needed to impound the waters.

Water drawn from behind the dam is used in the overhead irrigation systems of the celery growers during the gardening season. The growers are busy now transplanting in the greenhouses.

ORGANIZE C. OF C.

BUCYRUS—A Crawford county unit of the Ohio Chamber of Commerce was organized here Tuesday with Frank L. Hopley as chairman. The organization was formed after William A. Mills, representing the chamber at Columbus, appeared here and spoke on behalf of the county unit.

Other officers of the local setup are: vice chairman, O. F. Kime of Crestline; John S. Boyd of Galion and W. A. High of New Washington.

Purpose of the local group is to assist the chamber in keeping a check on pending legislative bills.

PROGRAM SET

GALION—Further plans for the second annual policeman's ball were made Tuesday night when a committee of citizens met at the temporary city hall. C. F. Unckrich who is general chairman of arrangements presided.

The ball will be held April 17 at the Junior high school gymnaisum with music for dancing to be furnished by Tommy Van and his 12-piece orchestra of Cleveland. Van will have his own floor show and novelties.

CRESTLINE—A. F. Childs, 81, of 601 East Bucyrus street, was admitted to Emergency hospital Tuesday evening for treatment.

CRESTLINE RED CROSS GROUP REPORTS ON FIRST AID CLASS

CRESTLINE—R. B. Smith, chairman of the first aid to injured committee of the local Red Cross chapter, reported at the monthly meeting of the board Tuesday afternoon how the committee had worked to organize a class in first aid.

Only seven applicants were received for the class which was to open March 13, and which has now been postponed until fall because of the lack of interest shown at the present time.

Mrs. I. G. Foster, civilian home service chairman also gave her report at this time.

A number of appeals for aid was discussed by the board and the applications of four cases where glasses were needed and one tonsilectomie were allowed.

Other routine business was conducted and bills allowed. Mrs. Elwood Adams presided.

* * *

Following routine business at the meeting of the Women's Benefit association held in the B. of R. T. hall Monday evening, Mrs. V. L. Fetter, the president who presided appointed the following committees. Sick committee, Mrs. Irene Verner; reinstatement, Mrs. C. M. Harley and Mrs. Werner; ways and means, Mrs. Fetter, Miss Anna Zimmerman and Mrs. Fred Galland.

Plans were made for a public card social to be held April 10. The following committee will serve for the card social, Mrs. Galland, Mrs. Harley, Mrs. Werner and Mrs. Francis Smith.

* * *

"Personal Consecration," was the lesson topic for the Trinity Lutheran missionary society meeting Tuesday at the home of Mrs. L. F. Waldbauer. The president, Mrs. Edward Bletz had charge of the lesson and the business. The quiz and discussion were entered into by all the members. Rev. C. H. Laeng led the devotionals.

Hostesses for the April 11 meeting will be Mrs. S. J. Brown and Mrs. Martin Wilkinson.

* * *

Nineteen tables of cards were in play at the public card social sponsored by the Boy and Girl Scouts held at the school cafeteria, Monday evening.

Henry Witter received the pinochle prize, Mrs. T. S. Parent, euchre, Mrs. Faye Trovinger, bridge and Mrs. John Stephan, rook.

* * *

Rook was the diversion of the H. H. club, Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Harry Baldinger. Preceding the games the hostess served a 6:30 supper. Guests present were Mrs. H. E. Eckstein and Mrs. J. A. Depler.

Prizes were won by Mrs. Fred Stough, Mrs. Charles Snyder and Mrs. Depler.

Appointments of St. Patrick's Day were used by the hostess.

GALION — T. H. Poister, of Harding Way West has been taken to the Smith Clinic at Marion for observation.

VETS TO MEET AT CRESTLINE

CRESTLINE — L. C. Hipsher, commander, presided for the regular meeting of McWhirter Post, American Legion, Monday evening. Plans for the third Crawford county Legion banquet for which Crestline will be host this time were discussed and the date set for April 19. Committees were to be announced by the commander.

This being Americanization Week held in conjunction with the 20th anniversary of the founding of the Legion, March 15, and which is celebrated nationally, the Post made plans to have the local celebration in the form of a party at the Legion club rooms, Friday, March 17, at which time the auxiliary will be guests.

A letter received from R. B. Gardner of Mansfield, vice commander of the state, was read commending the Post on having reached their membership quota of 100.

A letter was also read concerning the unemployed veterans. Such veterans can enroll in the C. C. C. for replacements for April but must file their applications at once.

PRESENT PLAY

Johnsville Talent to Give 3-Act Mystery Friday.

JOHNSVILLE — "Hobgoblin House," a three-act mystery play, will be presented by the young people of St. John's Lutheran church, south of here, at 8 p. m. Friday in the Johnsville school auditorium.

Cast in the play are Grace Kochheiser, Margaret Hildebrand, Irene Hildebrand, Pearl Lanker, Elaine Levering, Helen Baker, Richard Baker, Donald Lewis, Wayne Craven, Dwight Craven, John Phillips and Dwight Altman.

The same play will be presented March 22 at the Williamsport Grange hall. Rev. J. M. O'Morrow, pastor of the church, is directing the play. Proceeds will go toward repairs to the church.

WOMAN INJURED

BUCYRUS — Mrs. Mary Della Wilson, 123 West Mary street, is recovering from bruises and a sprained left ankle suffered Sunday night when she was involved in an automobile collision at Poplar and West Mansfield streets. Mrs. Wilson was attempting to cross the street when three cars collided at the intersection. She was unable to say which of the three cars struck her. Her injuries were treated at City hospital.

BLAME YOUR LIVER IF—
If your liver doesn't secrete 20 to 30 ounces of bile every day into your intestines—constipation with its headaches, mental dullness and that "half-alive" feeling often result. So you see how important it is to keep bile flowing freely! And what finer aid could one desire than Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, used so successfully for years by Dr. F. M. Edwards for treating his patients for constipation and sluggish liver bile.
Olive Tablets are unsurpassed in effectiveness because they stimulate liver bile to help digest fatty foods, they tone up muscular intestinal action at the same time help elimination. Being purely vegetable, Olive Tablets are harmless. Test their supreme goodness TONIGHT! 15¢, 30¢, 60¢. All druggstores.

WHY FALSE TEETH WEARERS HAVE BAD BREATH
Millions Suffer Without Knowing!
You can't notice any odor from your plate or bridge—but others may! Dentists call this odor "denture breath" and it's serious. It comes from a mucin-scum that collects on plates and bridges. This scum is almost invisible—but it can make your breath so bad that friends shudder. It can breed decay-bacteria that infect your other teeth, actually hurt your health and spoil your pleasure.
Ordinary brushing often can't get this scum off plate or bridge—can't protect you against "denture breath." But just try Polident! Polident not only cleans—it actually purifies plates and bridges without brushing. It gets every bit of scum, tarnish, stain and odor—dissolves it away and leaves your plate sweet and clean as new.
Your breath will be fresher, your mouth feel cleaner—and your plate last longer and look better. Polident is approved by dental authorities, Good Housekeeping and tens of thousands of delighted users. Long-lasting can costs only 30¢ at any drug store.
POLIDENT
CLEANS, PURIFIES LIKE MAGIC
Do this daily: Add a little Polident powder to ½ glass water. Stir. Then put in plate or bridge for 10 to 15 minutes — Rinse—and it's ready to use!

OHIO GUERNSEY MEETING FRIDAY

150 Cattlemen Expected Here for Annual Sessions of State Association.

About 150 cattlemen and their wives from throughout Ohio are expected to attend the annual meeting of the Ohio Guernsey Breeders association Friday at the Mansfield-Leland hotel.

Principal speakers at the session will be Darrel Brady, Minneapolis, and George M. Newlin of Farmington, Mich., leading Guernsey breeders. Brady will lecture on "The Golden Isle of Guernsey" and will illustrate his talk with colored movies.

Three directors will be elected at the annual business session scheduled for 10:30 a. m., Friday. A luncheon at 12:30 p. m., will be followed by the program.

Dr. Charles G. Brown, Mansfield, one of the two Richland county directors of the association, is in charge of reservations for the luncheon. Otto Kline, manager of the dairy at Raemelton farms, is the other director from this section.

"GAS BUGGY" STILL RUNS

BUCKFIELD, Me.—(U.P.)—One of the first "gas buggies" ever built is still in running condition. F. E. Warren can go 12 miles an hour in his eight-horsepower vehicle. It has wooden hubs, a tank for water, and is without brakes or radiator.

300 TO ATTEND YOPEDIO RALLY

One-Day Conference Opens at 9 A. M. Saturday at Park Avenue Baptist Church.

Three hundred young people from Richland county churches are expected to attend the 15th annual Yopedio conference to be held Saturday at the Park Avenue Baptist church and Senior high school.

The one-day meeting gets under way at 9 a. m., with other sessions scheduled for 1:15 and 6 p. m. The morning and afternoon meetings will be at the Baptist church and the evening session at the high school.

Two new leaders have been added to the panel discussion at the afternoon meeting. They are Herman D. Bishop, assistant principal of the high school, and Harold W. Arlin, supervisor of industrial relations at Westinghouse. Other speakers are Rev. Grover E. Swoyer, pastor of the First Lutheran church, and Mrs. Charles Ray.

Principal speaker for the meeting will be Rev. G. H. Rowe of Indianapolis, Ind., who will speak at both the afternoon and evening sessions. Preceding the evening meeting will be a dinner for delegates in the high school cafeteria. Music during the evening will be furnished by the Hayden trio of Mansfield, comprised of Ann Janette Klinger and Joseph and Frank Pival, and Arthur Boyce of Shelby.

The evening meeting will be open to the public. Election of officers will be held during the afternoon business meeting.

An otherwise happy marriage may not seem so when husband and wife are bridge partners.

It is now being said that the Amlie appointment is not a "burning issue"—probably only a hot potato.

Institute Broadens Understanding.

GROWTH of public interest in world affairs is seen in the large attendance at sessions of the Institute of International Understanding, sponsored in many American cities by Rotary International, and brought to Mansfield through co-operation of the local Rotary and University clubs, which financed cost of the series.

During this course of lectures and discussions, it has been made possible for audiences to become better acquainted with conditions existing in other parts of the world and to realize what great variance there can be in honest opinions of persons seeing things from different viewpoints.

Little of world interest has escaped mention in the four talks thus far given on successive Monday evenings at Senior high school auditorium, and into each of the addresses and discussions has been woven an idea of the close relationship of the United States with the problems and changes in Europe, the Americas and the Far East.

Having thus far heard a Czechoslovakian, an American college professor, an Englishman and a Chinese give expressions of their views on world conditions, the series is to conclude next Monday evening with a talk by Mansfield-born Louis Bromfield, who will bring the whole matter close home when he tells about "The turmoil in Europe with respect to its effect on the people of Richland county."

Lively interest has thus far been shown in the discussion period which follows each lecture, and it is anticipated that next Monday night's audience will have many questions awaiting Monroe township's newly acquired farmer.

Store Windows to Herald Spring.

SPRING DISPLAY DAYS, featured annually by a number of Mansfield stores, come at a season when there is lively anticipation of delightful weather, following several months of the snow, ice and slush of winter.

Thoughts also turn at this time to approaching Easter, with its need for gladder raiment and the urge to prepare for warmer days ahead.

For the purposes of early showing of new spring merchandise of all kinds, more than forty Mansfield stores, under sponsorship of the Retail Merchants association, have chosen this week-end—starting tomorrow—as the days on which to center public attention on window displays and to give an idea of the completeness of stocks in readiness for the people of Mansfield and this entire trading area.

Looking around—and shopping—in Mansfield during this week-end will be interesting and well worth while.

Find Time for Biography.

EXTENT to which biography is essential to well-rounded education is seldom better demonstrated than in the talk on Thomas A. Edison which Harold W. Arlin, president of the Mansfield board of education, has given recently before several local club groups.

While the information contained in this talk is probably all available in books that can be found at the public library, it is quite unlikely that many school children or adults in Mansfield have delved as deeply into the Edison life story as has Mr. Arlin in satisfying his curiosity and finding inspiration in learning intimate details of the career of the great inventor, whose birthplace, Milan, is only a short distance from Mansfield.

Outstanding in the experiences of Edison are his many early failures, and the number of times he was "fired" from jobs, before he finally succeeded in doing the things he had started out to do.

Fiction has a legitimate place in reading, just as a dessert is necessary to completion of a dinner, but a reading course that does not include a fair proportion of biography is lacking in an essential to proper mental nourishment.

Some Cities Jail Drunken Drivers.

WHAT to do about drunken drivers, without infringing on their "personal liberty," is becoming a matter of considerable concern in a number of cities, in which frequency of accidents from this cause have been increasing.

The solution in some cities has been to include a jail sentence as a part of the penalty imposed on offenders, requiring that the sentence be served on Saturdays and Sundays in cases where regular employment would otherwise be interfered with.

A heavy fine, which takes money needed for support of a family, does not seem to adequately meet the problem of what to do with the sort of people who endanger the lives of others by driving after drinking.

Art Saved, People Lost.

THERE is one thing which the Spanish republican government and the rebel government seem to have agreed from the first. That was the protection of Spain's art treasures from the destruction of war. There are today in Geneva, Switzerland, 1,842 packing cases of Spanish art removed there for safekeeping. Their contents, it is said, are in excellent condition. Representatives of both sides co-operated in the work.

While soldiers were at the front fighting, other men worked at the task of carefully packing and carting out of the country the works of Velasquez, Murillo, El Gerco and Goya. Beautiful buildings have been destroyed or badly damaged, but movable art has largely been saved.

This action was taken during a war which has cost Spain the lives of three-quarters of a million people—casualties heavier than those of any single nation in the World war.

Is it not strange that mankind can recognize the importance of saving great art, yet remain indifferent to the importance of human life, human justice, human charity? Could not the same spirit that saved Spanish art also have saved the Spanish people from the suffering, hatred and chaos of war?

—By PRESTON GROVER

WASHINGTON — People curious about what foreign correspondents in America send to their home papers overseas will be interested to read dispatches sent from here about news breaking in this country.

Not long ago Hirosi Saito, former Japanese ambassador to the United States, died in his apartment here after a lengthy illness. The last man to interview him was Masuo Kato, Washington correspondent for Domei, the Japanese news agency. A translation of his story of that interview—the story he sent to Domei in Japan—is included below, along with the story he sent when President Roosevelt supplied a cruiser to take back to Japan the ashes of the dead envoy.

Japan is one of the three "axis" nations repeatedly scolded by this country. It has a censored press. Nevertheless the stories sent from here to Japan are strikingly in harmony with stories printed in American papers. The former ambassador's comment in the first dispatch, not before printed in this country, throws a new slant on Japanese reaction to the Guam affair.

* * *

'Acted With Common Sense.'

THE dispatches, slightly cut down, read:

"Washington—'I believe in the common sense of the American people,' were the last memorable words the writer heard from the late Ambassador Hirosi Saito, who lived in this country for 18 years as a diplomat.

"These words can be taken as his firm belief in the people of the United States. Saito had many friends among the Americans in all walks of life. He understood the American people better than any other Japanese.

"The writer met him and had a talk with him 12 hours before his death early Sunday morning, without realizing that would become the last talk with him. He looked a little bit pale that afternoon and was lying down in the bed with an ice bag on his chest, but he showed little change in his expression. He received the writer with a smile and, instead of talking of his condition, he began to talk calmly on the current issues in which the Guam question was involved.

"Before the writer asked any questions the former ambassador said the American people sometimes seem to go to the extreme in sentimentalism, but as was the case in the vote in the house on the Guam question they were sane and acted with common sense....

"His death is a great loss to Japan, especially in connection with the American-Japanese relations as we need such a man as Saito to adjust the relations between the two countries."

* * *

Madame Saito Appreciative.

AND the second dispatch:

"Washington — President Roosevelt's offer to furnish a heavy cruiser of the U. S. navy to transport the ashes of the late Ambassador Saito was an unprecedented affair. American war vessels have often been used to transport the bodies of active ambassadors to their homeland, but as far as the United States government is concerned, at least, there is no precedent for carrying the remains of a former ambassador in a warship to his native country.

"Several American friends of the writer told him it was a high tribute to the late Ambassador Saito, who was so popular in this country and was the most friendly gesture on the part of the United States government. They further commented that there were many misunderstandings between Japan and the United States, but the offer of President Roosevelt might become an important factor in adjusting the relations between the two countries, as nothing is nobler than the friendship remembered in bereavement of a friend. Saito was one of the very best friends of the American people."

BUT WHAT DOES THE DOCTOR SAY?

The Human Side of the News

—By EDWIN C. HILL

"DOC" SLIFER, an old-time pitchman, tells me that there won't be much doing in his line in and around New York's World's Fair. He doesn't think the Fair management is treating the pitchmen fairly, especially with the various restrictions on just what kind of a "pitch" they can make. But he has several other reasons for feeling a bit gloomy. One is that people don't respond to the lure of the "shillers" and "cappers" the way they used to do.

"Everybody is getting too smart, these days," said "Doc" Slifer. "There just aren't any more real rubes. My first workout in this business was on the Midway Plaisance in the Chicago World's Fair in 1893. There were farmers around there by the thousands, with whiskers and celluloid collars—when they wore a collar at all—who looked just like the pictures in 'Puck' and 'Judge.'

"You could keep on taking them all day long with them liking it and coming back for more. But that's all over and done with now. Everybody is wised up and you can scarcely tell the big town slicker from the yap—in fact, there aren't any more yaps. I guess we're through," said "Doc," plaintively.

"And then there's another thing. You take the run of these World's Fair exhibits, scientific gadgets and all that, and they make a better show than anything we could put on. What's a two-headed calf compared with a television show, for instance? We've had a good line of wonders and marvels and miracles, some of them on the level, but the general run of progress makes a lot of our stuff look foolish. I suppose that's one thing this Fair is celebrating, but it makes us the goat. I guess we just stayed too long."

AS AN enthusiastic reader of the "Pipes of the Pitchmen," in Billboard Magazine for many years, (a literature sin generis), I was somewhat cast down by the "Doc's" gloomy forebodings. Aren't we going to have a good time at this Fair? Will the highbrows and the mezzobrows overlay it so heavily with deep and purposeful significance that only a Harvard Ph. D. can enjoy it? Can't we have our usual dash of delirium, with a batch of youngsters reveling in the traditional dare-deviltry of chute-ing the chutes and what not?

A preview of the Fair is reassuring. It will be City of Tomorrow but there will be just enough of pleasantly remembered honkeytonk to save us from nostalgia. There is a splendid amusement section, notably different in one respect from previous Fairs in one most important detail. They're cracking down on dirt. New York City has been acquiring a good reputation for sophisticated entertainment, minus smut, for the last few years, and the Fair will carry on from there.

Over a considerable time, this is a measure of national as well as regional advance. At the New York World's Fair, anything like Jack's theater, which flourished at the first Chicago Fair, would bring a riot call with the first turn on the boards. Amusement zones in the past have thrived on offside exhibits. That's out at this Fair. And I guess we can thank Grover Whalen for it. He's that kind of fellow—clean as a hound's tooth.

When you stop to think about it, a one-headed calf is just about as much of a marvel as a two-headed calf. That seems to be the take-off on this New York World's Fair, in its truly magnificent round-up of science, techniques, arts, crafts, machines, skills and all the high endeavour of civilized living, to project us into the City of Tomorrow and the World of Tomorrow.

Deviations from the normal, such as the pitchmen's freaks, make news, but a bold and a triumphant advance of the normal, in the conquest of the material world, makes much more important news and that is what our Fair achieves in its splendid realizing of the scientific advance of the last decade.

* * *

SOME persons think we got a bear by the tail when we geared our society to the machine. True or false, there's no turning back, and the first and most obvious deduction from this is that our continued advance depends on the stimulation of new desires. Modern economy is based on that premise. Great expositions, such as this, stir in millions of persons a desire for a higher standard of living, as they see new ease, grace, dignity, beauty and comfort in living portrayed in countless exhibits.

The Fair prods the country to live up to its heritage and to create a still richer heritage. Unless there is this continual stimulus, the machine is merely a job-killer. Utilized, as our Fair will show us how to utilize it, we find a rising standard of living—new desires and their satisfaction—eventually ending unemployment and stagnation and putting laggard capital to work. That is the road ahead, straight into the City of Tomorrow—and, like the white towers of Camelot, it is a city of faith and aspiration.

Pope's Vast Realm Includes Odd Corners of the Globe

THE intangible bonds between the Catholic world and its Supreme Head took the form of radio air waves last Sunday, as millions listened in on the Vatican City broadcast describing the solemn and dramatic coronation of Pope Pius XII.

"Under the spiritual authority of the new pontiff is, roughly, one out of every seven persons on earth," says a bulletin from the Washington, D. C., headquarters of the National Geographic Society. "All together there are between three and four hundred million Catholics among the world's estimated two or more billion people.

Highest Proportion.

"Proportionately, South America has the largest Catholic population of any continent, amounting to over 90 per cent of the entire number of inhabitants. In Argentina both president and vice-president must be Catholic to hold office.

"Asia has the least Catholic representation, with less than two per cent of the total population. Africa counts a share of something over two per cent; while Europe, with more than two hundred millions, approaches the 50-per cent mark.

"In both Americas there are about one hundred and ten million Catholics, of which Uncle Sam accounts for approximately one-fifth. Number One Catholic state, numerically, is New York, with more than three millions; in proportion to population, however, Massachusetts tops the list. The Philippines have some ten million Catholics; and even little Puerto Rico has around a million and a half.

"Across the Atlantic, among Europe's predominating Catholic lands are Italy, Spain, and former Austria, now Germany's 'Ostmark.' Germany (where the Nazi government has been reported for some time in conflict with the church) has about twenty-seven million Catholics, six million of whom were added with the absorption of Austria. This means that 'Greater Germany' is now about one-third Catholic.

"Other strong Catholic countries include Ireland, Portugal, Hungary, France, Poland, and Belgium. Before the partition of Czechoslovakia, two thirds of this small land's population were listed as Catholic.

Bishoprics In Name Only.

Besides covering large segments of the globe, the Catholic world extends into geographic nooks and corners whose names read like a gazetteer—from Alaska to Zanizbar. Some of these regions represent 100 per cent Catholic membership, such as the little Pyrenees republic of Andorra which, according to the Franciscan Almanac, has 'Population, 5,231: Catholics, 5,231.'

"Others are mere 'Titular Sees,' or bishoprics in name only. Unlike 'Residential Sees,' these remote areas mostly in Asia Minor, Palestine and Syria) are assigned to bishops who never see their districts. In fact, in some cases it is even forbidden for them to visit their Sees.

"At one time strong Catholic territories, many of the Titular Sees belong now to Moslem Buddhist, and other Eastern religions. Certain of the old See cities have disappeared altogether. Others persist in the form of small, half-forgotten communities. Still others are important only as archeological sites.

"One such is Laodicea in Asia Minor, a Titular See of Archbishop Cicognani, Papal Delegate to the United States. Once a rich and vital trading center, Laodicea is now reduced to crumbling ruins."

Timely Editorial

Hands Tied.

The main case against the war referendum plan was put in a few words by Senator Hatch, of New Mexico.

"I wouldn't even like to walk down the streets of Washington with my hands tied behind my back," he said, "and this would be tying the hands of the nation. I think the plan would actually increase the chances of war. It would invite any nation to insult us."

That seems obviously the case, and our nation would be lucky if others did not press the advantage to do more than insult us.

It seems infinitely safer to entrust the war power of congress, as at present, rather than to leave the decision to some foreign ruler. Such would be precisely the effect of leaving foreign goverments to guess how far they might trespass on our interests before we would set in motion the cumbersome referendum machinery. — Detroit News.

What and Why Is "A Womanly Woman"?

—By ELSIE ROBINSON

"A WOMANLY WOMAN"—there's a phrase which invariably rouses both my ire and my curiosity. For over half a century I've heard those words tossed about with considerable force and fury but I'm hornwaggled if I yet know what they mean, or why they mean it.

Obviously, the users of said appellation have in mind some sort of divinely ordained pattern which the Female of the Species is supposed to follow. But where, I ask you, did they dig up said pattern? And who in thunder told them God had Okeyed it?

You'd think—wouldn't you?—that such issues would be definitely shelved in these days of Equal Rights and Suffrage. But you'd think wrong, for a Womanly Woman is, if possible, more admired than ever . . . and her mannish sister more hotly condemned. As Miss Adele Khoury, of Boston, Mass., plainly attests. Do you wonder why a perfectly nice Gal should be disqualified as Wife, Mother or Noble Inspiration, simply because she prefers sneakers, sweaters and slacks to high heels and frills? Wonder no longer—read Adele!

"Dear Miss Robinson—

"Why, oh why, can't women be womanly as God intended them to be? It burns me up to see women in professional fields, taking the places of men, wearing low, flat heels, striding along, dressed in mannish suits, low felt hats, trying to get along with men as man to man.

"Why can't they be what they were cut out to be? All these attempts to do things, to find their place in the world. They have a place in the world, an important place. They can fill it only by being women—NOT BY TRYING TO BE MEN!

"A married woman's real work lies in encouraging her husband, training her children and in being THE POWER BEHIND THE THRONE IN GENERAL. What greater career could she want?

"The world also has a place for spinsters in work that requires the charm and intelligence of women but why don't they retain their femininity and not try to fill the jobs of men when, goodness knows, there are plenty of men who need those jobs.

"THE INTELLIGENCE, INTUITION, INSPIRATION, COMFORT OF WOMEN ARE SURELY NEEDED. WHY DO THEY TRY TO GET AWAY FROM WHAT THEY WERE CREATED FOR? THEY SHOULD MAKE THE MOST OF THEIR SEX.

Miss Adele Khoury,
Boston, Mass.

As to your last query, I wouldn't worry if I were you, Adele. Most of the Gals seem to be doing quite nicely, thank you! But your previous remarks certainly leave me floundering.

Where, for example, did you get the Inside Tip that men had the monopoly on flat heels, practical suits, and that is was lese majeste for a Gal to don the same? Surely you're not quoting Papa Adam and Mama Eve whose wardrobe was, to say the least, sketchy!

And it is equally interesting to know why A Stride should bar a healthy, hearty Jane from her civic and domestic rights. Why, for the luvva Pete, should 5 feet 10 inches of lady-beef-on-the-hoof, like myself, have to toddle, in order to qualify?

And why should a dame have to year one of those doohicky hats over her mascaraed flutter, before she can properly Encourage, Inspire, Guide and Uplift her Lud'n Master?

Phooey, sez I! And again—PHOOEY!

But most amazing of all is this stress upon "men's jobs." Now what on this 20th-century earth, may I ask, is "A MAN'S JOB"? Ladies must eat, mustn't they? (Or would you deny them that, also?) And since this is so, why should they not be equally entitled to any job which will bring in the groceries?

Oh, where, in the Good Book or the Penal Code or the Encyclopedia Brittanica or the World's Almanac or Mrs. Lincoln's Cook Book will you find the teeniest weeniest warning that Honest Toil has a sex?

Tell us, youngster! Com'on—tell us quick!

A Farmer's Diary

The Old Newspaper.

—By CALVIN A. BYERS

THE newspaper sent me by a reader friend is a thin old sheet, with ragged edges and holes where the folds have been. In the top center, dividing the portions of the heading, is a little sketch.

At one side, two ships with sails spread—a pile of cotton bales upon the shore, a cask, an anchor, tropical shrubbery. At the other, a farmer with a one-horse walking plow, in his field. Against the old post fence are heaped some bags of grain, a keg, a plow, a scythe. In the space between these two scenes is a plaque of the great American eagle and the words, E PLURIBUS UNUM. Beneath is printed in small type, "Liberty and Union, Now, and Forever, One and Inseparable." Then come the words, Established 1815—Published every Wednesday, and the date Jan. 13, 1864.

The print was dull and faded. I turned over the sheet and scanned the quaint advertisements. A column devoted to German Bitters—"not a rum drink"—cures all diseases; another column to Female Regulating Powders . . . a few inches for Dyspepsia Tablets . . . the same for horse liniment. Small room for Wearing Apparel. No beauty ads!

Within, a correspondent reporting from the state house, who signed himself "Nobody" . . . reports from state legislature . . . governor's Inaugural address . . . destitution of rebel prisoners.

I returned to the first page, and sought the featured piece. It was an address on agriculture, delivered at Utica, N. Y., by a Rev. S. W. Fisher. Some portions of it will cling in my memory.

"The farmer, above most men, is impressed by his dependence upon divine power, and is ready to acknowledge it. . . . An old Roman whose crops far surpassed those of his neighbors was accused of witchcraft and brought to trial. When he appeared in the forum he produced a stout daughter, and some excellent iron spades and shears. Presenting these, together with his oxen, he said, 'These, Romans, are my charms!' . . . .

"I do not belong to that school which thinks that ignorance is good enough for the masses of the people—that because a man must labor with his hands, his intellect is a useless appendage. The first man God made, the highest and most intelligent of his race, was a farmer."

I laid the paper by. That newspaper is a metropolitan daily now. But on the first page one still often finds some country scene featured in picture and in print. So long as people eat, the farm will furnish news.

Man About Manhattan

—By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK—Pearl White is dead and they auctioned away some of the "luxurious accessories" to her home in Paris the other day. They went for $3,000.

It seems to me that Hollywood missed a bet in not having a representative on hand for that sale. Pearl White was as important to the formation and the growth of the motion picture industry as Washington's army was to the colonies when we became revolutionists and broke away from the mother empire.

Why wouldn't it be a good thing to have a museum in Hollywood dedicated to those who helped make it great? A museum of rooms and galleries dedicated to the Rudolf Valentinos and the Pearl Whites and the John Gilberts who took much from Hollywood and gave much, who touched it with their hands and made of it a thing of their own personalities and felt their influence on it, so that even now we speak of "a second Valentino," or we say, "He looks like John Gilbert."

* * *

IT COULD be handled in such a way that the curse of the tomb would be taken off. There could be laughter and music, and surely the flowers would have an extra incentive to blossom in all that California sunshine.

Charge a dime. Charge a quarter. Charge anything. It would pay for itself in time, and if there were anything left over there are charity organizations who would welcome the money. Pearl White's name isn't going to die because she epitomized in silent serials, the dauntless, blond heroine who leaped off cliffs or wrecked railroads to preserve her virtue and thwart the evil influences of the world.

Valentino's name isn't going to die because he epitomized Latin Love in slick-haired capital letters. He wore slave bracelets and he was something of a perfumed dandy, but nobody ever called him a sissy. When he died women all over the world fainted and said they were engaged to him. The center of the world became Campbell's funeral chapel at 66th and Broadway, and for days the streets were a seething vortex of prostrate humanity. Nothing like it has ever been seen before or since.

* * *

NOR will John Gilbert's name die, because he was the Great Lover, too—a different type of lover—dashing, impetuous, reckless, mastering. His and the Garbo legend are entwined forever. His whole life was a tragedy, despite sensational monetary success. At least two of his wives have said he was a victim of his own driving ambition.

Think of the thousands who visit Hollywood annually, who would pay anything to wander through a Valentino, or a Pearl White, or a John Gilbert room to see their pictures, or the boots Valentino rode in, or the khaki leggings Gilbert wore in "The Big Parade."

Think of the little boys, now grown up with little boys of their own, who would pay to pause by a rug on the hearth and say, "Son, Rin Tin Tin slept on this rug. He was just a dog, but he was a star."

It isn't too late. But it will be if time keeps slipping away and nobody does anything about it.

CONVICT'S DAUGHTER + + +

By RUTH RAY KANE

(Copyright, 1939.)

CHAPTER TWENTY

Jim wanted Lona to marry him immediately, that afternoon, as soon as they could go through the motions of obtaining a license and finding a minister. Now that they had made up their minds, he argued, there was no reason for waiting. But, laughingly, Lona put him off. It wasn't decent, she said. A bride must have some time to get ready for her wedding. She couldn't be married in her crumpled office suit.

"You look good to me in anything, girl," he protested, his eyes meeting hers across the restaurant table with a new look in them, a possessive, promising look that brought a warm glow to her strained face and made her feel suddenly alive. Alive, after all these days of just enduring, just getting through things because they must, somehow, be lived through.

"I hope you're not going to want any fuss," he brought out. "I hate that sort of thing. You're not planning any church aisle stuff, are you?"

She laughed. "I've had enough publicity this last week. I'm wondering if we could go away some place, out of the city. Do you suppose the reporters will write us up if they find out?"

"They'll eat it up. . . . Prison Escape Girl Weds. . . . Can't you see the headlines?" He crinkled his eyes into a frown over his cigaret and Lona felt suddenly panicky.

"Couldn't we elope?" she brought out. "To Greenwich, maybe?"

But he shook his head. "Greenwich is too public. All the runaways go there. The reporters watch the license lists and they'd spot us right off, unless—" He hesitated, and she sensed a sudden tenseness in his eyes. "You wouldn't want to use some other name, would you, girl? They wouldn't tumble then."

For a moment Lona frowned. "But, Jim, that wouldn't be legal, would it? I thought you had to use your own name on a marriage license."

"Oh, it would be legal, all right. It's the intent that counts, not the name. There's many a man gets himself hooked up under an alias. Why, for all you know, maybe I'm not using my right name. You've only my word that I was born Jim Claridge."

* * *

He grinned at her, and she had to smile back. Gazing into his face, it came to her that she really did know very little about this man she was planning to marry. Nothing but that he was kind and strong, and that he loved her. She was sure of that, now. But he had told her almost nothing about himself, and what he had told her might not be true.

"I'll take your word for it, Jim," she brought out, abruptly, ashamed of even the shadow of a doubt. "And I suppose there's no use trying to run from the newspapers. I'll just have to take the publicity." She shrugged and he gave her hand a reassuring pressure.

"We'll make it Friday," she promised when he did not speak. "Friday afternoon—" She broke off, then, flushing at her own boldness.

"Friday! That's three whole days! When we could be hunting up a license right now. You women are funny." He shook his head and she laughed again.

"Wait until you see the wedding dress I'm going to buy," she told him.

* * *

It couldn't be white, of course. With Daddy just laid to rest in the grassy cemetery back in Bridgewater she had to pass up anything reminiscent of bridal satins and orange blossoms. Blue was her next best color and it was upon a demure little fall model of navy crepe that she decided finally. With a delicious recklessness she cashed the check Mr. Sanders had given her, and bought a trim little blue felt hat with turned-up brim and a price tag that would have sent her scurrying at any other time. She even managed a pair of blue pumps, with the sheerest of matching hose, and a pair of smart hand-knitted gloves.

Waiting for Jim to call for her at the hotel on the last evening before what was scheduled to be their wedding day, she tried on all her purchases together. She adjusted the collar of filmy white organdy on the blue dress and stood for a long moment studying herself critically in the mirror. She looked slim, and girlish, and not very bride-like, she told herself severely. More like a business girl ready for work.

* * *

She fluffed out her hair a little more beneath the severe lines of the hat and wondered if Jim would like her in it. Funny, to be thinking of someone's approval. It had been such a long time since she had had to care about anybody's opinion of her clothes. Not since the old days back in Bridgewater that were gone now, past hope of return, forever.

With tears starting in her eyes she sat down, still in her bridal outfit, and counted the money which remained in the shabby old purse that had gone with her through so many weary days. It totaled ten dollars. Impulsively she took pen and paper from the dresser drawer and penned a letter to the old minister in Bridgewater who had buried her father.

She told him she was to be married, that she would be happy, and he must not be concerned about her. Into the envelope she slipped the ten dollars and directed that it was to be spent for flowers for the new grave in the churchyard. Her eyes were swimming with tears as she wrote the familiar address and sealed the letter. It was, she realized, the last thing she would ever do for Daddy with her own money.

* * *

Traces of her tears still remained when she met Jim a few minutes later in the hotel lobby. She had changed to her work suit again and scrubbed a powder puff over her face to obliterate them, but her eyes were still red. His face darkened a little as he looked at her.

"Of course I'm happy, Jim. It's just that I was—lonesome, I guess. I got to thinking of Daddy . . ."

"You shouldn't be alone." He took her arm as they left the hotel together, and his hand was warm and strong. Close to him she felt safe.

"Jim!" she brought out, snuggling against him as they started up the street. "You're so good to me, Jim."

He turned then, there on the street, and looked down at her with sudden pleading in his eyes. For a moment she thought he was going to speak, and she waited. But instead, he held up his hand to a passing taxi, and guided her toward the curb. Once inside the car he sent the driver off toward the city park, and took her in his arms.

"Why must we wait until tomorrow, girl?" he asked, his lips against her hair. "Why do you want me to leave you again, ever?"

"Jim—"

"I love you, girl, love you! And you want to waste a whole day!"

"Jim, what do you mean?" She pulled back a little.

"Let's get married now, tonight. There's still time to get into the license office. I'll hire a car and we can drive out into the country and find a preacher somewhere. Can't you do it, girl?"

For a moment Lona clung to him, her heart beating hard. After all, why not? There was no real reason to wait.

"Yes, Jim," she murmured, so low he had to bend close to catch the words. "I'll do it."

"Girl!"

He kissed her before he called out an order to the taxi driver to turn downtown and go to the marriage license bureau. It was a gentle kiss, but the promise of it left her trembling and shy.

'Y' PREPARES TO GREET VISITORS

The last two weeks of March have been set aside as "visitors weeks" at the Y. M. C. A., Ralph B. Chapman, general secretary, announced today.

The observance opens Sunday and is being sponsored by the board of directors, physical and boy's work committees. Harvey Bailey, board president, Dr. C. W. Frickman, physical committee chairman and Irl Fisher, chairman of the boy's work committee are in charge of arrangements.

During the two weeks the public is invited to visit the "Y" and its activities both in the daytime and evenings, Chapman said. A program for the two weeks is now being arranged.

A public inspection of the swimming pool, recently re-opened, will be held Sunday, March 26, Chapman said. The pool has only been open to "Y" members and to gymnasium classes.

In preparation for the visitors program, repairs are being made to the floor in the lobby of the building which will include the covering of the floor with linoleum.

CRESTLINE — The Young Ladies Missionary society of the English Lutheran church met at the church Monday evening. Esther Mae Speelman presented the topic and Miss Grace McNeal presided.

SHAMROCK SUGAR COOKIES

So easy—no tedious rolling and cutting

½ cup Spry
½ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon grated lemon rind
½ teaspoon nutmeg
1 cup sugar
2 eggs, beaten
2 tablespoons milk
2 cups sifted flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
½ teaspoon soda
Green citron
Green sugar

Blend Spry, salt, lemon rind and nutmeg. Add sugar gradually and cream well. (Done in a jiffy with triple-creamed Spry.) Add beaten eggs and milk and mix.

Sift flour with baking powder and soda. Add to creamed mixture and mix well. Drop from teaspoon on Spry-greased baking sheets. Let stand a few minutes, then flatten cookies by stamping with a glass covered with a damp towel. Decorate tops with shamrocks cut from citron or with a shamrock-shaped sprinkle of green sugar.

Bake in moderate oven (375° F.) 10 minutes. Makes 3½ dozen. Notice how tender these cookies are—how delicate in flavor, made with pure, ALL-vegetable Spry.

(All measurements in this recipe are level)

FIGHT BREAKS OUT AS HOUSE GROUP MEETS

Appropriation Committee Goes to Work; Democrats Resent New Money Demand.

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON—President Roosevelt got prompt preliminary action today on his request for an extra $150,000,000 for relief—and along with it a tumultuous row which shattered Democratic harmony in the house.

A house appropriations subcommittee, starting consideration of the president's recommendation within 24 hours of its submission, asked Col. C. F. Harirngton, WPA administrator, to explain in detail why more money was needed.

Leaders Predict Victory.

Administration leaders predicted the president would get his $150,000,000, but from some house Democrats came expressions of resentment over the new demand.

It was embarrassing, they said, to be requested to reverse so soon the action by which congress lopped $150,000,000 from the $875,000,000 which Mr .Roosevelt originally asked to operate the WPA until June 30.

They also objected to the fact that supervision of the emergency bill was taken from Rep. Woodrum (D-Va.), leader of an economy bloc, and turned over to Chairman Taylor (D-Colo.) of the appropriations committee.

Rep. Cox (D-Ga.), who has opposed some administration measures, said:

"Members are shocked at the treatment of Mr. Woodrum, who is one of the ablest and most influential members of the house. They are so resentful that the $150,000,000 would be defeated overwhelmingly if it were voted on today.

Whether the protests over deposing Woodrum would swing any votes against the $150,000,000 remained to be seen.

Opinions Unchanged.

But it was an open question, also, whether Mr. Roosevelt's latest appeal for more money had undermined any of the opposition to his original request for $875,000,000. A survey of a score of Democrats who had voted against it disclosed that none had changed his position.

Most Republicans were silent on the issue, although Senator McNary, the minority leader, said that if the money was "actually needed for relief and not for politics" it would be authorized.

The president told congress that insufficency of present funds would compel the WPA to discharge about 1,200,000 workers in the immediate future and that this would affect 5,000,000 persons.

Settlement News to Me, Says Jackie of 50-50 Proposal

HOLLYWOOD —(AP)— Jackie Coogan, who says all he knows about a property settlement with his mother is what he read in the papers, went looking for a movie job today, still with nothing to show for the millions he earned as a child star.

"It was a surprise to me—those stories yesterday — that mother and I were splitting up my $250,000 estate fifty-fifty," the 24-year-old actor told the Associated Press.

"From what I read of the terms, it seemed to me I wasn't getting even as much as a half share, although I'd be willing to settle for that rather than fight the case through the courts for several more years.

"As near as I can make out, my mother and stepfather would be given real estate and securities, while my supposed 50 per cent would include some of my old films—and I'm not even sure they still exist. At any rate, they'd have no cash value.

"If this is the kind of settlement that will be presented in court Friday, you can say for me that it has no chance of going through."

3 RESCUED IN CANTON BLAZE

Firemen Save Children From 3-Story Structure; Loss Estimated at $50,000.

(By Associated Press)

CANTON—A blaze in downtown Canton, from which firemen rescued three small children through use of an aerial ladder, was brought under control early today.

Investigators sought to determine the cause of the fire, which swept through the upper floors of a three-story structure on the city's public square.

No official estimate of the damage was immediately available, but it was expected to reach between $50,000 and $75,000, including losses sustained by business establishments located in the 60-year-old building.

The blaze is believed to have started on the third floor, where several apartments were located.

From one of these, William Murray, 12, and his cousins, Richard Perrenoud and his brc her, Fritz, 6 and 4 years old, were rescued. All had been overcome by smoke while they slept.

Every available fireman was ordered to the scene. Eleven pieces of apparatus responded. A crowd of 5,000 persons watched the fire from the square.

The building housed a basement cafe, a men's toggery, a women's apparel shop, a Republican club headquarters and several offices, including the state tax commission's sales tax quarters.

PUPILS VIE WITH PARENTS IN GROTTO SPELLING BEE FRIDAY

Which are the best spellers—pappy and mammy, or the kids?

This much-discussed question should be settled pretty definitely Friday night when five senior high school girls match their ability against five members of the Mansfield Parent-Teacher association at the Baku Grotto's second spelling contest at Grotto hall in the King building. The contest starts at 8 p. m.

Upholding the honor of the schools will be Miriam Armstrong, Miriam Bauer, Charlotte Brightbill, Virginia Gerke, and LaNola Myers, with Doris Kiraly as alternate. All of the girls are in 12-A class.

The P. T. A. team, several members of which are "McGuffey trained" spellers, will be made up of Mrs. Kathryne Bancroft, Herman Clingan, Alfred M. Colby, Mrs. Milo Hieber and Mrs. Joseph Scanlon, with C. A. Divelbiss as alternate.

The words for the spelling bee will be selected from daily newspapers as these, according to the committee, represent the words that are in daily use and understood by the majority of people.

Judge G. E. Kalbfleisch will be master of ceremonies and will conduct the contest.

The Grotto has arranged to hold a series of Friday night spelling contests, each one to be sponsored by a Mansfield merchant or concern. This week's affair is being sponsored by O. O. Brenner, jeweler, 8 West Third street. He will provide the prizes for the winners, first and second, and eight smaller prizes for all who take part.

DIES AT AGE 87

Mrs. Leifer, Crawford Native, Stricken Tuesday.

BUCYRUS — Mrs. Elizabeth Leifer, 87, a native of Crestline, died Tuesday afternoon at a Fostoria nursing home where she had been ill for a year.

Mrs. Leifer spent her entire life in Crawford county. She was a member of the Good Hope Lutheran church.

Surviving are three children, Jonas A. and George C. both of Bucyrus, and Mrs. Minnie Keel of West Palm Beach, Fla.; a brother, Henry Matthias of Crestline; two sisters, Mrs. Mary Weaver and Mrs. Kate Schwerer both of Crestline, and one grandchild.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. Friday at the Henderson and Lutz funeral home here with Rev. H. H. Glick officiating. Burial will be in Oakwood cemetery.

COMPANIES AND UNIONS FAIL TO REACH ACCORD

Pharmacists Fail to Report on Job; State Law Requires Closing Orders.

BULLETIN

CLEVELAND — (INS) — Picket lines were established outside a number of drug stores of three Cleveland chains today as they opened in defiance of a strike called by four A. F. of L. Drug Store Employes unions. Few of the stores opened at their scheduled time this morning.

(By International News Service)

CLEVELAND—More than 100 drug stores operated by three major chains in Cleveland were closed today by a strike of four A. F. of L. unions.

The chains affected were the Standard Drug company, operating 50 stores in greater Cleveland, the Marshall Drug Co., 45 stores, and the Weinberger Drug Stores, Inc., 22 stores.

No effort was made to open stores at which registered pharmacists failed to report for duty, as state law requires the presence of a pharmacist in every drug store. Failure of the chains to agree on a contract with the Association of Registered Pharmacists was given by union leaders as the chief reason for the strike, voted early today after an all-night union meeting.

Told to Stay Home.

Members of the association, the Drug Clerks union, the Drug Warehouse union and the Building Service Employes union were instructed at the meeting not to report for work today.

Police reported that the great majority of the 117 stores did not open this morning, and a spokesman for Standard Drug admitted the greater number of the chain's stores remained closed. Picket lines were not established.

John Schrier, business agent of the pharmacists, said that the stores classified most pharmacists as managers or assistant managers, and therefore refused to deal with them through the union.

Representatives of the other striking unions declared they wished to be recognized for collective bargaining purposes. No contracts were in existence between the chains and the drug clerks, the Drug Warehouse union or the building service employes, but Walter Crease, business agent of the Warehouse employes said that the union had a working agreement with Marshall and Standard.

BRICKER DENIES

Disclaims Support of Bill to Reorganize Wilberforce.

COLUMBUS —(U.P.)— Gov. John W. Bricker denied today he had given his support to a bill to reorganize the board of trustees of the combined normal and industrial department of Wilberforce university, but said he believed some "people" connected with the university had been "pretty active" in politics.

An administration spokesman in the the house of representatives had said the governor approved a bill to abolish the present board and establish a new one from which President D. O. Walker would be excluded.

Such a bill has been offered by Rep. Chester K. Gillespie, R., a colored member, and it was freely reported that the ultimate purpose of the measure was to effect the removal of Dr. Walker from the presidency.

FAIR ENOUGH!

With Some Exceptions Writers' Vanity Is as Bad as That of Singers'

—By WESTBROOK PEGLER

NEW YORK—Withdrawing nothing of what I recently said about the vanity of singers, I may add that writers, as a class and always saving the exceptions, have the same faults and a few others besides.

There is something about fame or mere publicity—which is momentary fame—which often has an upsetting effect on the poise, morals and modesty of people who work in words.

Saving the exceptions again, writers think they are not bound by conventional politeness of manners and speech. Some of them come to think that they are very superior to business men, whom they lump together as damned grocers and affect a lofty manner toward better persons who are not in the writing business.

Some of them, women writers included, think that because they are writers they should be permitted to use dirty language in any company. This takes a conscious effect at first, because writing is seldom a family trade and most writers come from ordinary families of business men or employes and were fetched up in the conventional way.

* * *

Literary agents and magazine editors could tell you a lot about the inconsiderateness and irresponsibility of writers, because they are always having to hold their hands, clean up their bills and alimony problems and stake them to living money between stories and often have to step in and settle family rows or arrange divorces.

A spoiled writer sitting somewhere quietly with a friend in the business, exchanging flattery, will be quite natural, but let a third person, a stranger, enter the picture and you will see him go into his dance, putting on the glamour or temperament to show that he is different and a little bit mad.

* * *

Some writers can do the tenderest and loveliest pieces imaginable about deep, honest love but can't stay hitched to one wife or husband long enough to last out a short-term sublease on an apartment, and their marriages in many cases break up for very petty causes. Some promote publicity for their stuff by adopting peculiar domestic understandings, and it is a fact, noted with sharp disappointment by persons outside the writing business, that some owners of well known literary names who can write the most fascinating copy are the most dreadful bores in person.

* * *

Writers cultivate hangouts in restaurants and saloons not only for the purpose of getting together and talking shop but also to be gazed at by the tourist trade and —sometimes — asked for their autographs. They have done this in Paris, London and New York, and there never was a time in New York when literary celebrity was so widespread or the celebrities so conspicuous in the night life. Saloonkeepers like to have them around to draw sightseers.

Most writers are former newspaper reporters and should have a pretty level sense of the true worth of publicity, which is made by running sheets of paper over inked cylinders and generally doesn't mean a thing, but it doesn't work out that way. It gets them just as it gets singers, actors and some types of politicians, and you will find them chucking their weight around public dinners and public joints, orating to college students and clubs and even taking bows in the subway.

* * *

A writer whose stories get into the magazines is rated a celebrity, regardless of what the stories are about or how good they are, and the papers themselves used to build up this illusion of distinction by hiring old grads of the city room to cover such events as political conventions or world's series games and billing them on the wagons as "famous magazine writer." The regular hands would do the journeyman copy, and the seal would write what the event meant to posterity or something like that for a check equal to six months' pay for a city side man.

* * *

That isn't done any more. The regular newspaper people give better coverage, and the only outstanding job of this kind by a name-writer in recent years was Edna Ferber's story about the Park avenue saloon society dolls at the Hauptmann trial. That one drew blood, but Edna Ferber is a writing writer and you never see her around.

I guess old George Bernard Shaw has done more posturing and grimacing than any other contemporary writer, but not in a scandalous or dirty way, and, anyway, the old boy is there. He has a right to act funny, but others who are always breaking into print with disorder or monkey business or being eccentric are just being coarse for fear they will not be noticed.

Hollywood Speaks—

—By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD—Hollywood is full of lunatics. A guy, for instance, who can't be happy on $4,500 a week. A guy who chucks it overboard, when it's coming in regularly, 52 weeks a year, just so he can be happy.

You've heard of him, and he's not in a padded cell. He's in jail, though. He's working his poor head off in the twine mills of a big prison—even though it's just the movie prison of "Each Dawn I Die."

His name is Raft. George, you know. That one. The one who always didn't wanna play—and kept on balking until finally the whole deal blew up, happily for all concerned.

It's funny, though. They said he balked at playing gangster roles—and yet the first role he takes when he's free to take one (away from Paramount) is a gangster role. George says it isn't quite true—about his hating gangster roles. It's true he didn't like certain kinds of gangster roles. It's this way:

"I played a gangster in 'Scarface.' I killed 14 people, but the audience felt sorry for me when the picture was done. Now I'm playing an underworld big shot, a four-time loser who goes to prison with a 199-year sentence. But this hard, tough con has redeeming qualities. He's the product of vicious environment, and in the end he does a fine, decent thing. He goes back to prison to save a pal he knows is square."

He says he draws the line at gangsters who are all bad and die rats. He can't afford to sacrifice audience sympathy, have people pay money simply to hate him.

"Lot of people may think, from what they've heard, that I'm a hard guy to deal with. I don't think I'm that, but I guess I am a peculiar cuss. I like to be happy. I've been called all kinds of a chump for kicking over a fat contract. Some of my friends have been inclined to doubt my sanity. Well, what good was that money coming in every Wednesday when I couldn't be happy in what I was doing? I'd a darn sight rather have far less and be at peace mentally."

* * *

And there was another point of friction, to hear Raft tell it. He wanted to work with other stars, let them help carry the pictures. He liked especially that "Souls at Sea" with Gary Cooper.

"Look at it this way," he says. "In New York, for instance—suppose there's Cagney and O'Brien in 'Angels With Dirty Faces.' And up the street there's 'Gunga Din' with Grant, Fairbanks, and McLaglen running competition, and then another house has Gable and Shearer in 'Idiot's Delight.' You know the companies do that—meet strong competition with their best pictures. Well, suppose there's a picture of mine, with only the name of Raft up in lights, playing against that type of competition. What chance have I got? I'm not that big a star and I know it. One of the reasons I signed for this part was that I'd be working with Cagney."

And I figure up. Just $4,500 a week, 52 weeks a year. It's $234,000 . . . But Friend George is happy, so what?

'Y' PREPARES TO GREET VISITORS

The last two weeks of March have been set aside as "visitors weeks" at the Y. M. C. A., Ralph B. Chapman, general secretary, announced today.

The observance opens Sunday and is being sponsored by the board of directors, physical and boy's work committees. Harvey Bailey, board president, Dr. C. W. Frickman, physical committee chairman and Irl Fisher, chairman of the boy's work committee are in charge of arrangements.

During the two weeks the public is invited to visit the "Y" and its activities both in the daytime and evenings, Chapman said. A program for the two weeks is now being arranged.

A public inspection of the swimming pool, recently re-opened, will be held Sunday, March 26, Chapman said. The pool has only been open to "Y" members and to gymnasium classes.

In preparation for the visitors program, repairs are being made to the floor in the lobby of the building which will include the covering of the floor with linoleum.

CRESTLINE — The Young Ladies Missionary society of the English Lutheran church met at the church Monday evening. Esther Mae Speelman presented the topic and Miss Grace McNeal presided.

Famed Cradle Opens Home

A new three-story home for The Cradle, famed Evanston, Ill., establishment for babies, is opened on sixteenth anniversary of the institution. Numerous movie stars as well as other celebrities have obtained children from The Cradle for adoption.

STAGE FESTIVAL

P. T. A. at Lexington to Give Annual Carnival Friday.

LEXINGTON — The Parent-Teacher association of Lexington high school will sponsor its annual carnival Friday night in the school.

A feature of the carnival will be a cabaret, the Shamrock club, where refreshments will be served and a program of entertainment presented. Entertainment will include dancing by students of the Marguerite Speas School of Dancing of Mansfield, a cake walk, and music by an orchestra directed by Eugene Smart of Mansfield.

The Future Farmers of America, a young men's organization, will have an exhibit of their work. Other exhibits will include fancy work, quilts, grade school art and hobbies. A number of concessions and games will also be included on the program.

ASHLAND—Decree of divorce is sought in common pleas court here by Mary I. Motter from Thomas Arthur Motter, the latter being charged with gross neglect of duty. The plaintiff seeks custody of one child and support.

EASY TO GET CRISP, TENDER, TASTY COOKIES -WITH PURER SATIN-SMOOTH SPRY

FAST-MIXING SPRY GIVES WONDERFUL CAKES BISCUITS, PASTRY, TOO

SHAMROCK SUGAR COOKIES

So easy—no tedious rolling and cutting

½ cup Spry
½ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon grated lemon rind
½ teaspoon nutmeg
1 cup sugar
2 eggs, beaten
2 tablespoons milk
2 cups sifted flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
½ teaspoon soda
Green citron
Green sugar

Blend Spry, salt, lemon rind and nutmeg. Add sugar gradually and cream well. (Done in a jiffy with triple-creamed Spry.) Add beaten eggs and milk and mix.

Sift flour with baking powder and soda. Add to creamed mixture and mix well. Drop from teaspoon on Spry-greased baking sheets. Let stand a few minutes, then flatten cookies by stamping with a glass covered with a damp towel. Decorate tops with shamrocks cut from citron or with a shamrock-shaped sprinkle of green sugar.

Bake in moderate oven (375° F.) 10 minutes. Makes 3½ dozen. Notice how tender these cookies are—how delicate in flavor, made with pure, ALL-vegetable Spry.

(All measurements in this recipe are level)

—(Clip and save this Spry recipe)—

"SPRY'S marvelously creamy, mixes like magic!" cooking experts say. No wonder it's so easy to get delicate, light cakes and tender, flaky pastry with this new triple-creamed shortening. Gives such crisp, tasty, digestible fried foods, too. Get Spry.

World's Tonic Minstrels Coming

Due to increasing demand, the World's Tonic Minstrels will return to our city this coming summer to present a return engagement of their big, FREE SHOW. Many of you remember when the big FREE SHOW played here for a number of weeks, several years ago. As before, the big show will be given on a vacant lot, conveniently located and large enough to accommodate the anticipated immense crowds.

All this should be great news for thousands of our old local friends. Watch for the opening date.
